When you walk in the door, at 102 Columbia street, the first thing you see is a small sign which reads: "be sensitive about discourse or AWOL's have never been very appropriate... for this is the Boston Draft Resistance group, one of about 300 groups around the country dedicated to the purpose of advising and assisting individuals who wish to avoid the draft..."

I talked with Mike Miller and another person from the group who identified himself only as "Walrus" in an effort to find out how they operated, and I think that the clergy are going to have to work very hard to find their way through this mess.

While we are able to sit in tranquility and discuss our goals, the people of Vietnam and their families are fighting with the enemy, and the problems of the clergy are laughable by comparison.

I met with Michael Miller and another person from the group who identified himself only as "Walrus" in an effort to find out how they operated, and I think that the clergy are going to have to work very hard to find their way through this mess.

When a person comes in and asks for help, they try to determine his situation. The BERG maintains a large set of files, which contain a certain number who don't draft resisters. They are looking for a determinant. The counselor will discuss the alternatives with them, be they Canada, prison, or going underground. To the key to this is finding out what the person doesn't want to do. The counselor will explain to the mediating to help him to carry on through his idea—if it is legal. Most people who visit them are not convinced that they are doing the right thing. They are feeling for a determinant. The counselor will discuss the alternatives with them, be they Canada, prison, or going underground. To the key to this is finding out what the person doesn't want to do. The counselor will explain to the mediative to help him to carry on through his idea—if it is legal. Most people who visit them are not convinced that they are doing the right thing. They are feeling for a determinant. The counselor will discuss the alternatives with them, be they Canada, prison, or going underground. To the key to this is finding out what the person doesn't want to do. The counselor will explain to the mediative to help him to carry on through his idea—if it is legal. Most people who visit them are not convinced that they are doing the right thing. They are feeling for a determinant. The counselor will discuss the alternatives with them, be they Canada, prison, or going underground. To the key to this is finding out what the person doesn't want to do. The counselor will explain to the mediative to help him to carry on through his idea—if it is legal. Most people who visit them are not convinced that they are doing the right thing. They are feeling for a determinant. The counselor will discuss the alternatives with them, be they Canada, prison, or going underground. To the key to this is finding out what the person doesn't want to do. The counselor will explain to the mediative to help him to carry on through his idea—if it is legal. Most people who visit them are not convinced that they are doing the right thing. They are feeling for a determinant. The counselor will discuss the alternatives with them, be they Canada, prison, or going underground. To the key to this is finding out what the person doesn't want to do. The counselor will explain to the mediative to help him to carry on through his idea—if it is legal. Most people who visit them are not convinced that they are doing the right thing. They are feeling for a determinant. The counselor will discuss the alternatives with them, be they Canada, prison, or going underground. To the key to this is finding out what the person doesn't want to do. The counselor will explain to the mediative to help him to carry on through his idea—if it is legal. Most people who visit them are not convinced that they are doing the right thing. They are feeling for a determinant. The counselor will discuss the alternatives with them, be they Canada, prison, or going underground. To the key to this is finding out what the person doesn't want to do. The counselor will explain to the mediative to help him to carry on through his idea—if it is legal. Most people who visit them are not convinced that they are doing the right thing. They are feeling for a determinant. The counselor will discuss the alternatives with them, be they Canada, prison, or going underground. To the key to this is finding out what the person doesn't want to do. The counselor will explain to the mediative to help him to carry on through his idea—if it is legal. Most people who visit them are not convinced that they are doing the right thing. They are feeling for a determinant. The counselor will discuss the alternatives with them, be they Canada, prison, or going underground. To the key to this is finding out what the person doesn't want to do. The counselor will explain to the mediative to help him to carry on through his idea—if it is legal. Most people who visit them are not convinced that they are doing the right thing. They are feeling for a determinant. The counselor will discuss the alternatives with them, be they Canada, prison, or going underground. To the key to this is finding out what the person doesn't want to do. The counselor will explain to the mediative to help him to carry on through his idea—if it is legal. Most people who visit them are not convinced that they are doing the right thing. They are feeling for a determinant. The counselor will discuss the alternatives with them, be they Canada, prison, or going underground. To the key to this is finding out what the person doesn't want to do. The counselor will explain to the mediative to help him to carry on through his idea—if it is legal. Most people who visit them are not convinced that they are doing the right thing. They are feeling for a determinant. The counselor will discuss the alternatives with them, be they Canada, prison, or going underground. To the key to this is finding out what the person doesn't want to do. The counselor will explain to the mediative to help him to carry on through his idea—if it is legal. Most people who visit them are not convinced that they are doing the right thing. They are feeling for a determinant. The counselor will discuss the alternatives with them, be they Canada, prison, or going underground. To the key to this is finding out what the person doesn't want to do. The counselor will explain to the mediative to help him to carry on through his idea—if it is legal. Most people who visit them are not convinced that they are doing the right thing. They are feeling for a determinant. The counselor will discuss the alternatives with them, be they Canada, prison, or going underground. To the key to this is finding out what the person doesn't want to do. The counselor will explain to the mediative to help him to carry on through his idea—if it is legal. Most people who visit them are not convinced that they are doing the right thing. They are feeling for a determinant. The counselor will discuss the alternatives with them, be they Canada, prison, or going underground. To the key to this is finding out what the person doesn't want to do. The counselor will explain to the mediative to help him to carry on through his idea—if it is legal. Most people who visit them are not convinced that they are doing the right thing. They are feeling for a determinant. The counselor will discuss the alternatives with them, be they Canada, prison, or going underground. To the key to this is finding out what the person doesn't want to do. The counselor will explain to the mediative to help him to carry on through his idea—if it is legal. Most people who visit them are not convinced that they are doing the right thing. They are feeling for a determinant. The counselor will discuss the alternatives with them, be they Canada, prison, or going underground. To the key to this is finding out what the person doesn't want to do. The counselor will explain to the mediative to help him to carry on through his idea—if it is legal. Most people who visit them are not convinced that they are doing the right thing. They are feeling for a determinant. The counselor will discuss the alternatives with them, be they Canada, prison, or going underground. To the key to this is finding out what the person doesn't want to do. The counselor will explain to the mediative to help him to carry on through his idea—if it is legal. Most people who visit them are not convinced that they are doing the right thing. They are feeling for a determinant. The counselor will discuss the alternatives with them, be they Canada, prison, or going underground. To the key to this is finding out what the person doesn't want to do. The counselor will explain to the mediative to help him to carry on through his idea—if it is legal. Most people who visit them are not convinced that they are doing the right thing. They are feeling for a determinant. The counselor will discuss the alternatives with them, be they Canada, prison, or going underground. To the key to this is finding out what the person doesn't want to do. The counselor will explain to the mediative to help him to carry on through his idea—if it is legal. Most people who visit them are not convinced that they are doing the right thing. They are feeling for a determinant. The counselor will discuss the alternatives with them, be they Canada, prison, or going underground. To the key to this is finding out what the person doesn't want to do. The counselor will explain to the mediative to help him to carry on through his idea—if it is legal. Most people who visit them are not convinced that they are doing the right thing. They are feeling for a determinant. The counselor will discuss the alternatives with them, be they Canada, prison, or going underground. To the key to this is finding out what the person doesn't want to do. The counselor will explain to the mediative to help him to carry on through his idea—if it is legal. Most people who visit them are not convinced that they are doing the right thing. They are feeling for a determinant. The counselor will discuss the alternatives with them, be they Canada, prison, or going underground. To the key to this is finding out what the person doesn't want to do. The counselor will explain to the mediative to help him to carry on through his idea—if it is legal. Most people who visit them are not convinced that they are doing the right thing. They are feeling for a determinant. The counselor will discuss the alternatives with them, be they Canada, prison, or going underground. To the key to this is finding out what the person doesn't want to do. The counselor will explain to the mediative to help him to carry on through his idea—if it is legal. Most people who visit them are not convinced that they are doing the right thing. They are feeling for a determinant. The counselor will discuss the alternatives with them, be they Canada, prison, or going underground. To the key to this is finding out what the person doesn't want to do. The counselor will explain to the mediative to help him to carry on through his idea—if it is legal. Most people who visit them are not convinced that they are doing the right thing. They are feeling for a determinant. The counselor will discuss the alternatives with them, be they Canada, prison, or going underground. To the key to this is finding out what the person doesn't want to do. The counselor will explain to the mediative to help him to carry on through his idea—if it is legal. Most people who visit them are not convinced that they are doing the right thing. They are feeling for a determinant. The counselor will discuss the alternatives with them, be they Canada, prison, or going underground. To the key to this is finding out what the person doesn't want to do. The counselor will explain to the mediative to help him to carry on through his idea—if it is legal. Most people who visit them are not convinced that they are doing the right thing. They are feeling for a determin