The TrackTech gurus fought until they both had eight points each, and the engineered had no difficulty in staying on top. The 200-meter sprint was won by Tech's Larry Cies after a close finish with one to three seconds to go. The 400-meter dash was won by a Tech runner in 46.2 seconds. In the 880, Minot Cleveland from Brandeis was the lone winner Friday as he easily outdistanced his opponents, three of whom were Tech. The 1500 was won by a Tech runner in 4:18.5. In the field events, the Engineers managed to win only two events. Rich Toulson took the 1000 yards in 2:27.1, while Pat Sulli- van won the 800 yards in 2:17.1.

Chemists, Engineers

For most students, choosing a career is a turbulent time... a time of dizzying alternatives... a time of thoughtful reflection... a time for direction and goals to be self-determined by a proper and fitting choice.

We invite you to reflect on Itek. We're a ten-year-old science-based firm with facilities from coast to coast. We produce exciting advanced information systems for everything from office reproduction to aerial reconnaissance. And we offer a benefits package as modern as tomorrow.

We're from the molding crowd. But our scientists and businessmen are something new for a change.

DEFERRING GRADUATE SCHOOL?

The Smithsonian Astrophysical Observatory likes to staff its world-wide network of research stations with men of unusual intelligence and ability. The trouble is, of course, that most such men are either still in school or already spoken for by one or another of the professions. The men we send to Spain, Peru, Ethiopia and elsewhere must have career plans which are still negotiable, or be willing at least to acquire some uncom-
