Tutors advise applicants

Dean Kinasewich believes it vital that students become acquainted with such opportunities as soon as possible. He plans the benefits of a student's career by setting his sights on a student's employment opportunities. He urges a student to become acquainted with his major department's study, fellowships, and application procedures for both domestic and foreign fellowships and to keep in careful touch with the Dean's office. The Senior Tutors maintain close ties with the Dean's office. The Senior Tutors and students get to know each other well since the Tutors represent their houses on an administrative level. As deadlines for fellowship application approach, Dean Kinasewich contacts the tutors, who in turn consult their files, speak with students, and re-comment candidates. For fellowships such as the Rhodes and Marshall, interviews are often arranged to be held in the individual houses.

Since every student must be affiliated with a house, the files of all non-resident students are kept in a house (corresponding to our NREAs) which has a tutor system exactly like that of the other houses. Thus, it is virtually impossible that a student may go unaware of the opportunities.

Old Bomb.

New Honda.

Same Price.

It's true this sleek new Honda Scrambler 125 would cost you the same money as the old used bomb, but the low price isn't the whole Honda story. Far from it.

When you ride any of Honda's 23 models, you can forget high insurance, upkeep, and maintenance costs. Forget parking problems too.

And look at the Scrambler 125 styling: new candy colors, chrome fenders, trim new forks, upswept pipes. And performance: the 125's dependable 4-stroke parallel twin OHC engine delivers an impressive 13 hp at 10,000 rpm; up to 153 mpg.

The hot new Scrambler 125. Can you think of a better reason to ban the bomb?
