The General Assembly will meet for the first time this year at 7:30 p.m. Thursday in the Sala de Puerto Rico. Most likely they will conduct the meeting of more than 80 representatives. They are to elect three members to the executive committee, ten undergraduates to serve on the Nominations Committee until September.

Memorial service is held as MIT pays tribute to Ike

Chairman of the Corporation James R. Killian addresses a memorial convocation held for President Dwight D. Eisenhower, who died at the age of 79 on Thursday at his home in Gettysburg, Pa.

Chairman of the Corporation James R. Killian, who has been president of the Institute since 1962, delivered the address.

"We gather here to pay our last respects to President Dwight D. Eisenhower, who passed away Thursday afternoon at the age of 79. We are here to pay our last respects to a great man, a man of great principles, a man whose leadership we will miss."

"It is fitting that this commemoration be held at the Institute, because President Eisenhower was a great technologist. He was a man who understood the importance of science and technology in our world. He was a man who knew how to use science and technology to improve the lives of people around the world."

"We will honor President Eisenhower by remembering his contributions to our country and the world. We will remember his wisdom, his courage, and his leadership. We will remember his legacy."

"May President Eisenhower rest in peace."

Humphrey to speak at MIT; will lecture and teach class

Professor Hubert H. Humphrey and Walter Rostow, Special Assistant to the President for Economic Affairs, will teach a seminar at MIT next Thursday. Professor Richard Lyndon Johnson, who will be visiting MIT, will be the special guest speaker.

"I am very pleased to be here at MIT today. I have always been impressed by the quality of the education that MIT provides. I have always been impressed by the creativity and innovation that MIT fosters."

"I am here today to lecture on the topic of political science. I will be discussing the current state of political science in the United States, as well as the future of political science."

"I will also be teaching a seminar on the topic of international relations. I will be discussing the current state of international relations, as well as the future of international relations."

"I am very much looking forward to my visit here at MIT. I am confident that I will learn a great deal from my interactions with the students and faculty here."

"I hope that my visit here will be beneficial to both MIT and to me. I look forward to my visit here."

The Weather

Variable showers and coolness, light in the low forties, will be the rule from the northeast.
