To the right is a site on Massachusetts Avenue where construction of up to 800 dwelling units, of which 200 would be for the elderly, has been proposed. The elderly, has been proposed. The program includes the completion of MacGregor, and Operation of the Redevelopment Authority, at least three citizen's groups, and the MIT planners.

To the left is the new vacant Beckwith-Ardien factory in North Cambridge. This is the proposed site of 150 low-rent dwelling units. Financing of withheld roll cards and diplomas or commons, there is the additional threat of withholding the roll cards and diplomas or ineligibility for registration.

A protest against the compulsory Commons system is being staged by David Jodrey '89, in Burton House.

His campaign has three main objec- tives: (1) to emphasize the benefits of volunteer commons; (2) to protest the "authoritarian nature of the common system"; and (3) to arouse the now dormant supporters of voluntary commons. He says he aims to get the dormitory commons for the present commons boycotters. In an interview, Jodrey stated that the boycotters were being threatened with expulsion from the dormitory system. Because the Institute regards the boycotters as owing money for the boycotters as owing money for commons.

David also mentioned that he, along with "dozens" of others, are planning a fast on campus. He went on to say that all people, whether or Commons or off, are invited to the Monday night activity. Since he is a senior, he said he might not receive any benefits personally, but he felt that it was right.
