Nyhart looking at duties

By Karen Watel

(Ed. Note: Karen, Secretary-General is not the only student representative in the faculty. However, Nyhart was Chairman last year.)

"Students didn't wait for school to start to get active this year; nor did the administration. I walked into an administration going full swing. I wasn't particularly focused on the job until I was named. Nyhart's reactions after two weeks in his new post as Dean for Student Affairs:

On Wednesday, September 3, Dean Nyhart and the rest of the staff focused for a day-long conference with about a dozen students on the role their offices should play.

What came out of that day's "put me and other people there more in tune with the concerns of students over the Vietnam War and the breadth, depth and range of this concern. We were impressed with the fact that no matter what other things the Deans' office works on, not to react to that in some way be leaving the center out of the house.

memoranda. In this way, the Coop might take a lesson from TWA and sponsor a give-away, to its employees. When a patron is treated especially nicely by an employee of the store, he drops his or her name in a special backup file and those employees most appreciated by the customers would be given bonuses. With this as an incentive, perhaps all the comments about the "bunchy old Coop ladies" would be a thing of the past.

In summary, this column has tried to provide a visible alternative for the Coop to follow in the coming years with a view toward improving Coop-student relations and increasing monetary benefits for Coop customers. For in the words of the Rules and Regulations of the Coop, "The object of the Harvard Cooperative Society is to reduce the cost of living at MIT. It exists solely for that purpose and endeavors to afford special facilities for the purchase of all kinds of students supplies."

Let the Coop practice what it preaches.
