Trinity stops booters 4-1

The soccer team ran into one of its toughest tests in the second game of the young fall season and out of the fray as a 4-1 loser. Trinity met Carthage in a contest with its entire team intact after last year's NCAA qualifying squad. However, the scoring went only one way. The Scots converted the constant pressure into a 1-0 lead. The go ahead was the first of the day. With a couple of breaks the engineers could have ripped the game wide open in the first quarter and prevented the eventual Trinity rally. The Techmen had some good scoring opportunities on excellent saves by the Carthage goalie and shots which hit the goalpost, certainly close.

Trinity tied the score with a penalty kick after penalty corner. As it was, Trinity tied the score with a penalty kick after penalty corner. The third goal was put on the board with one more run on a walk. Trinity answered goals. Two of the scores came from defense. However, the engineers couldn't complete the play from close. MIT varied its attack in the second half, but nothing worked.
