Eddleman is UAP

Top 10 UAP Officers

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Rank</th>
<th>Name</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>1</td>
<td>Steve Strauss</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>2</td>
<td>Michael Chang</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>3</td>
<td>Joseph Angland</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>4</td>
<td>Diane Feldman</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>5</td>
<td>Gary Felser</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>6</td>
<td>Thomas Begun</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>7</td>
<td>Peter White</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>8</td>
<td>Joseph J. Sigal</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>9</td>
<td>Josefa McIlwain</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>10</td>
<td>Richard Godtke</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

---

Class of '73

- President: Joseph J. Sigal
- Executive Committee: Richard Godtke, Josefa McIlwain
- Vice President: Gary Felser
- Secretary: Joseph Angland, Diane Feldman
- Treasurer: Josefa McIlwain

---

SDS-SMC protest fizzes

By Alex Makowski and Lee Giusepe

SDS-SMC members found themselves short of a target when they arrived at the Placement Office to confront General Electric recruiters, according to the group.

Having only three interviews scheduled, Captain Miller, the OCS recruiter, vacated his office at 11:00 am. The vanguard of the march hit the Placement Office, vacating his office, at 11:00 am.

The tabulated results of the referendum ballot will be made public within the next few days. The results will be used as input material in the decision-making process of the Working Group on Judgments Process of the Task Group on Governance of the MIT Community, the meeting group is chaired by Prof. Campbell Searle.

Eddleman and Ehrmann felt that the election turnout should have been better, but noted that it was relatively good. Since all the candidates stood for similar issues they felt the good turnout was an indication that students want change, and, according to Eddleman, they will be willing to work for it.

SDS-SMC led a protest against the UAP. The leaders, refusing to join the other radicals in their attempt to confront the United Fruit and General Electric recruiters, announced that their organization was pulled out. The next hour was spent in random discussions about the MIRV issue.

SDS-SMC coalition

- Adams: (Please turn to page 5)

---

The tech

VOLUME XC. NO. 8 FRIDAY, MARCH 6, 1970 FIVE CENTS

Stone scores arms policy

By Joe Kasbi

About seven hundred people attended the rally against US involvement in Southeast Asia. The rally was held in support of the March 4th rally held in Washington, D.C., to protest against US involvement in Southeast Asia.

The meeting was held in the Student Center at MIT. The speakers included professors, students, and community activists.

The rally was organized by the MIT Students for a Democratic Society (SDS) and the Massachusetts Student for a Democratic Society (MSDS).

The speakers included SDS members Steve Strauss, Michael Chang, and Richard Godtke. SDS-SMC members also spoke.

The rally was a success, with hundreds of people attending and showing their support for ending the war.

---

SDS-SMC protest fizzes

By Alex Makowski and Lee Giusepe

SDS-SMC members found themselves short of a target when they arrived at the Placement Office to confront General Electric recruiters, according to the group.

Having only three interviews scheduled, Captain Miller, the OCS recruiter, vacated his office at 11:00 am. The vanguard of the march hit the Placement Office, vacating his office, at 11:00 am.

The tabulated results of the referendum ballot will be made public within the next few days. The results will be used as input material in the decision-making process of the Working Group on Judgments Process of the Task Group on Governance of the MIT Community, the meeting group is chaired by Prof. Campbell Searle.

Eddleman and Ehrmann felt that the election turnout should have been better, but noted that it was relatively good. Since all the candidates stood for similar issues they felt the good turnout was an indication that students want change, and, according to Eddleman, they will be willing to work for it.

SDS-SMC led a protest against the UAP. The leaders, refusing to join the other radicals in their attempt to confront the United Fruit and General Electric recruiters, announced that their organization was pulled out. The next hour was spent in random discussions about the MIRV issue.

SDS-SMC coalition

- Adams: (Please turn to page 5)

---

Tabulated UAP-UAP results

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Class of '76</th>
<th>Rank</th>
<th>Stee Carhart</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>President</td>
<td>1</td>
<td>Steve Strauss</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Vice President</td>
<td>2</td>
<td>Michael Chang</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Secretary</td>
<td>3</td>
<td>Richard Godtke</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

---

Class of '71

- President: Howard J. Sigal
- Executive Committee: Gary Felser, Thomas Begun, Peter White

---

Class of '72

- President: Joseph Angland
- Executive Committee: Gary Felser, Thomas Begun, Peter White

---

Class of '73

- President: Joseph J. Sigal
- Executive Committee: Richard Godtke, Josefa McIlwain

---

New chance at SALT

By Alex Makowski and Lee Giusepe

The fourth chance is now confronting us, said Stone, in the form of the SALT talks. But, he added, "the leap of faith is necessary and the need for them. The problem, as Stone further charged, is how to accelerate the march toward SALT." The weapons' could hurt the US Army, and could cause the US to become afraid of its own weapons, thus fueling the arms race.

Having only three interviews scheduled, Captain Miller, the OCS recruiter, vacated his office at 11:00 am. The vanguard of the march hit the Placement Office, vacating his office, at 11:00 am.

The tabulated results of the referendum ballot will be made public within the next few days. The results will be used as input material in the decision-making process of the Working Group on Judgments Process of the Task Group on Governance of the MIT Community, the meeting group is chaired by Prof. Campbell Searle.

Eddleman and Ehrmann felt that the election turnout should have been better, but noted that it was relatively good. Since all the candidates stood for similar issues they felt the good turnout was an indication that students want change, and, according to Eddleman, they will be willing to work for it.

SDS-SMC led a protest against the UAP. The leaders, refusing to join the other radicals in their attempt to confront the United Fruit and General Electric recruiters, announced that their organization was pulled out. The next hour was spent in random discussions about the MIRV issue.

SDS-SMC coalition

- Adams: (Please turn to page 5)

---

The tech

Volume XC. No. 8 Friday, March 6, 1970 Five Cents

Stone scores arms policy

By Joe Kasbi

About seven hundred people attended the rally against US involvement in Southeast Asia. The rally was held in support of the March 4th rally held in Washington, D.C., to protest against US involvement in Southeast Asia.

The meeting was held in the Student Center at MIT. The speakers included professors, students, and community activists.

The rally was organized by the MIT Students for a Democratic Society (SDS) and the Massachusetts Student for a Democratic Society (MSDS).

The speakers included SDS members Steve Strauss, Michael Chang, and Richard Godtke. SDS-SMC members also spoke.

The rally was a success, with hundreds of people attending and showing their support for ending the war.

---

SDS-SMC protest fizzes

By Alex Makowski and Lee Giusepe

SDS-SMC members found themselves short of a target when they arrived at the Placement Office to confront General Electric recruiters, according to the group.

Having only three interviews scheduled, Captain Miller, the OCS recruiter, vacated his office at 11:00 am. The vanguard of the march hit the Placement Office, vacating his office, at 11:00 am.

The tabulated results of the referendum ballot will be made public within the next few days. The results will be used as input material in the decision-making process of the Working Group on Judgments Process of the Task Group on Governance of the MIT Community, the meeting group is chaired by Prof. Campbell Searle.

Eddleman and Ehrmann felt that the election turnout should have been better, but noted that it was relatively good. Since all the candidates stood for similar issues they felt the good turnout was an indication that students want change, and, according to Eddleman, they will be willing to work for it.

SDS-SMC led a protest against the UAP. The leaders, refusing to join the other radicals in their attempt to confront the United Fruit and General Electric recruiters, announced that their organization was pulled out. The next hour was spent in random discussions about the MIRV issue.

SDS-SMC coalition

- Adams: (Please turn to page 5)

---

The tech

Volume XC. No. 8 Friday, March 6, 1970 Five Cents

Stone scores arms policy

By Joe Kasbi

About seven hundred people attended the rally against US involvement in Southeast Asia. The rally was held in support of the March 4th rally held in Washington, D.C., to protest against US involvement in Southeast Asia.

The meeting was held in the Student Center at MIT. The speakers included professors, students, and community activists.

The rally was organized by the MIT Students for a Democratic Society (SDS) and the Massachusetts Student for a Democratic Society (MSDS).

The speakers included SDS members Steve Strauss, Michael Chang, and Richard Godtke. SDS-SMC members also spoke.

The rally was a success, with hundreds of people attending and showing their support for ending the war.

---

SDS-SMC protest fizzes

By Alex Makowski and Lee Giusepe

SDS-SMC members found themselves short of a target when they arrived at the Placement Office to confront General Electric recruiters, according to the group.

Having only three interviews scheduled, Captain Miller, the OCS recruiter, vacated his office at 11:00 am. The vanguard of the march hit the Placement Office, vacating his office, at 11:00 am.

The tabulated results of the referendum ballot will be made public within the next few days. The results will be used as input material in the decision-making process of the Working Group on Judgments Process of the Task Group on Governance of the MIT Community, the meeting group is chaired by Prof. Campbell Searle.

Eddleman and Ehrmann felt that the election turnout should have been better, but noted that it was relatively good. Since all the candidates stood for similar issues they felt the good turnout was an indication that students want change, and, according to Eddleman, they will be willing to work for it.

SDS-SMC led a protest against the UAP. The leaders, refusing to join the other radicals in their attempt to confront the United Fruit and General Electric recruiters, announced that their organization was pulled out. The next hour was spent in random discussions about the MIRV issue.

SDS-SMC coalition

- Adams: (Please turn to page 5)