WE HAVE JUST ONE WORD FOR ENGINEERING GRADUATES.

BY M.-. SANCHEZ

The MIT fencing team is one of the most successful in the New England championships this Saturday. They will be presented with a trophy by a solid 20 points and carried off four of six individual trophies.

The tournament is divided into a first round and the finals. After defending champion Brandeis put up some stiff competition in the opening round, Tech lost a fantastic show of strength and determination to take the finals by storm.

First round foil was a struggle between MIT's Mike Ashman and 72-Nick Lazarus 72 super squad and Norwich's Ryan, who won foil last year. All three finished the first round 5-1. In the finals, however, Lazars went undefeated to win the foil trophy. Ashman falttered slightly but still coped with it.

Tech's Guy Pommares '71 was undefeated in first round epee, but a couple of strong Brandeis' fencers were right with him. In the incomparable Pommares then proceeded to blitz through the finals except for one small error to capture Tech's second individual trophy of the meet.

Meanwhile, teammate Vince Fazio '70 was making a strong showing in the sabre, edging out in the second year in a row he was edged out of second by only two touches.

The final saber results were a surprise to many specialists as MIT's Dave Rapoport '70 and Will Miller '71 each held qualification for the finals along a strong Brandeis squad and several other top individuals in the country. It was another story in the finals, though, as both swordsman showed strength finally and went on to cut their way to the top of their respective sabers. Rapoport won 5-1, and Miller 4-2 in the finals to capture first. Miller's performance was so strong that it is possible he carried away the second place trophy.

The final team standings counted results from both teams. Tied at second, Tech was only 10 points behind first. Tech's only remaining hurdle this season is the Eastern sectionals of the Intercollegiate Fencing Association held at MIT this year on Friday and Saturday. Tech has never finished better than third in this match, the stiffest collegiate competition in the US. This year, however, the team is expecting something better. Under the superior tutelage of Olympian Ed Smart, Tech has become a spirited and successful group of fencers. He has added this to the New England championship plus the first victory over Harvard in 11 years. Not a team ready for the IFA's.

A thrilling display of fencing, come to DuPont this Friday and Saturday.

TECH WRESTLERS DISAPPOINTED IN NEW ENGLANDS

The varsity wrestling team ended this season on a disappointing note this past weekend as they came away from the New England championships with one second and one third. The firesmen however, placed a strong third with several noteworthy individual performances.

For the varsity, Paul Mitchell '72 finished third in the 158 lb. class while Walt Ratliff took second in the 167 lb. class but even this was a disappointment for Price, wrestling in the last match of his career at MIT. Pat Lefemine, who teamed up with Ratliff to win the 177 lb. class championship, closed out the season with a 2-4 record.

For the firemen, however, there was a strong third with several noteworthy individual performances. For the varsity, Paul Mitchell '72 finished third in the 158 lb. class while Walt Ratliff took second in the 167 lb. class but even this was a disappointment for Price, wrestling in the last match of his career at MIT. Pat Lefemine, who teamed up with Ratliff to win the 177 lb. class championship, closed out the season with a 2-4 record.

The Friday evening match ended in a 1-1 tie between the two teams. The meet was not decided until the final match of the night when MIT's Lance Ritt '73 defeated Brown's Jim Reilly '73 on a technical decision.

The final team standings showed both teams to be 4-1, MIT winning the tiebreaker. Tech also placed third in the tournament.

The final team standings showed both teams to be 4-1, MIT winning the tiebreaker. Tech also placed third in the tournament.

Most Life Insurance is a Bargain.

When you consider a savings account running well into 5 figures as the alternative to life insurance, almost any kind of life insurance is a bargain.

However, when you get down to the realities of the situation, some life insurance is a bigger bargain than others. Well up on the list of bargains is SAVINGS BANK LIFE INSURANCE. (For a careful examination will show that SBLI is America's lowest cost life insurance for all Ordinary and Accidental and Renewable Term.

For example, the SBLI 1 Year Renewable Term Plan, a man of 40 can buy $25,000 in Savings Bank Life Insurance for less than $100 a year. (at age 23, the cost is less than $75 a year.) This makes it easier to provide for your protection — at lowest cost — at a time when families need it most. In addition, an SBLI 5 year term policy is automatically renewable and convertible to any one of several permanent policies up to age 65, without additional medical examination.

Saves on equal policies over age 30, a 5 year term policy is more economical than a renewable policy, allowing you to add more protection at lower cost. The savings, of course, are even greater if you hold the policy up to age 65.

Another reason why SBLI is a bargain is the fact that all Massachusetts savings banks are members of the Massachusetts Savings Bank Life Insurance Association. SBLI policies are available to people who live or work in Massachusetts, you can keep any amount you own at the same low premiums even if you should leave the state. In addition, you can find out for yourself about every kind of savings Bank Life Insurance policy by visiting our bank, where an SBLI representative who is also a vice-president of the bank can explain the policies.

Savings Bank Life Insurance is convenient to buy, because the policy is written in the name of the person insured and no underwriting is necessary.

SBLI is AT $1440 THE AMOUNT OF ORDINARY LIFE INSURANCE FOR APPROXIMATELY 140 LIFE INSURANCE COMPANIES LICENSED IN THE STATE.

SAVINGS BANK LIFE INSURANCE

*MIT's Dave Rapoport '70 and Vince Fazio '71 edged out of second by only two touches in the finals. Will Miller '71 took the third place. Tech's only remaining hurdle this season is the Eastern sectionals of the Intercollegiate Fencing Association held at MIT this year on Friday and Saturday. Tech has never finished better than third in this match, the stiffest collegiate competition in the US. This year, however, the team is expecting something better. Under the superior tutelage of Olympian Ed Smart, Tech has become a spirited and successful group of fencers. He has added this to the New England championship plus the first victory over Harvard in 11 years. Not a team ready for the IFA's.

For a thrilling display of fencing, come to DuPont this Friday and Saturday.

Tech wrestlers disappointed in New England.

The varsity wrestling team ended this season on a disappointing note this past weekend as they came away from the New England championships with one second and one third. The firesmen, however, placed a strong third with several noteworthy individual performances.

For the varsity, Paul Mitchell '72 finished third in the 158 lb. class while Walt Ratliff took second in the 167 lb. class but even this was a disappointment for Price, wrestling in the last match of his career at MIT. Pat Lefemine, who teamed up with Ratliff to win the 177 lb. class championship, closed out the season with a 2-4 record.

The Friday evening match ended in a 1-1 tie between the two teams. The meet was not decided until the final match of the night when MIT's Lance Ritt '73 defeated Brown's Jim Reilly '73 on a technical decision.

The final team standings showed both teams to be 4-1, MIT winning the tiebreaker. Tech also placed third in the tournament.

The final team standings showed both teams to be 4-1, MIT winning the tiebreaker. Tech also placed third in the tournament.

The Friday evening match ended in a 1-1 tie between the two teams. The meet was not decided until the final match of the night when MIT's Lance Ritt '73 defeated Brown's Jim Reilly '73 on a technical decision.

The final team standings showed both teams to be 4-1, MIT winning the tiebreaker. Tech also placed third in the tournament.

The Friday evening match ended in a 1-1 tie between the two teams. The meet was not decided until the final match of the night when MIT's Lance Ritt '73 defeated Brown's Jim Reilly '73 on a technical decision.

The final team standings showed both teams to be 4-1, MIT winning the tiebreaker. Tech also placed third in the tournament.

The Friday evening match ended in a 1-1 tie between the two teams. The meet was not decided until the final match of the night when MIT's Lance Ritt '73 defeated Brown's Jim Reilly '73 on a technical decision.

The final team standings showed both teams to be 4-1, MIT winning the tiebreaker. Tech also placed third in the tournament.

The Friday evening match ended in a 1-1 tie between the two teams. The meet was not decided until the final match of the night when MIT's Lance Ritt '73 defeated Brown's Jim Reilly '73 on a technical decision.

The final team standings showed both teams to be 4-1, MIT winning the tiebreaker. Tech also placed third in the tournament.

The Friday evening match ended in a 1-1 tie between the two teams. The meet was not decided until the final match of the night when MIT's Lance Ritt '73 defeated Brown's Jim Reilly '73 on a technical decision.

The final team standings showed both teams to be 4-1, MIT winning the tiebreaker. Tech also placed third in the tournament.

The Friday evening match ended in a 1-1 tie between the two teams. The meet was not decided until the final match of the night when MIT's Lance Ritt '73 defeated Brown's Jim Reilly '73 on a technical decision.

The final team standings showed both teams to be 4-1, MIT winning the tiebreaker. Tech also placed third in the tournament.

The Friday evening match ended in a 1-1 tie between the two teams. The meet was not decided until the final match of the night when MIT's Lance Ritt '73 defeated Brown's Jim Reilly '73 on a technical decision.

The final team standings showed both teams to be 4-1, MIT winning the tiebreaker. Tech also placed third in the tournament.

The Friday evening match ended in a 1-1 tie between the two teams. The meet was not decided until the final match of the night when MIT's Lance Ritt '73 defeated Brown's Jim Reilly '73 on a technical decision.

The final team standings showed both teams to be 4-1, MIT winning the tiebreaker. Tech also placed third in the tournament.

The Friday evening match ended in a 1-1 tie between the two teams. The meet was not decided until the final match of the night when MIT's Lance Ritt '73 defeated Brown's Jim Reilly '73 on a technical decision.

The final team standings showed both teams to be 4-1, MIT winning the tiebreaker. Tech also placed third in the tournament.

The Friday evening match ended in a 1-1 tie between the two teams. The meet was not decided until the final match of the night when MIT's Lance Ritt '73 defeated Brown's Jim Reilly '73 on a technical decision.

The final team standings showed both teams to be 4-1, MIT winning the tiebreaker. Tech also placed third in the tournament.

The Friday evening match ended in a 1-1 tie between the two teams. The meet was not decided until the final match of the night when MIT's Lance Ritt '73 defeated Brown's Jim Reilly '73 on a technical decision.