Genet pleads cause of Black Panther Party

By Harvey Baker

Los Angeles—A thousand people turned out for the March 6 sit-in demonstration against the Free Bobby Seale campaign. The sit-in was called by the Black Panther Party and was organized by the San Francisco Chapter of the National Lawyers Guild. The demonstration was held in front of the Los Angeles Courthouse and was attended by students, faculty, and members of the local community.

Free Bobby Seale

The sit-in was held in response to the arrest of Bobby Seale, a co-founder of the Black Panther Party, who was charged with murder in connection with the death of a police officer during a demonstration in Oakland in 1969.

The sit-in was a peaceful protest, and it was attended by a large number of people who came to show their support for Bobby Seale and to call for his release.

The sit-in ended peacefully, and the police did not make any arrests. The demonstration was well-organized, and it was a success in terms of raising awareness about the case and calling for justice.

Genet spoke slowly, one sentence at a time, pausing after each one to let the audience think. She charged that the exodus rate was down, and she said that the change was exact and precise.
