Sex education for MIT?

By Lee Gigaere

An extreme sense of frustration seems to be building up in the minds of the Student Homophile League. This is not only due to the fact that the society is being ignored by the student body, but also due to the fact that society's contributions to the gay rights movement have been overlooked. The solutions cited by the General Task Force and others to improve the gay rights movement are not being taken seriously.

A closely related issue is the nature of homosexuality itself. It is well known that in the past there has been a view of homosexuality as a disease, caused by some internal imbalance. However, the majority of people today believe that homosexuality is a normal part of human nature. The basic assumption that homosexuality is a disease is now being questioned.

The main reasons for this are: 1) The sources cited by the General Task Force and others to improve the gay rights movement are not being taken seriously. 2) The solutions cited by the General Task Force and others to improve the gay rights movement are not being taken seriously.

The question now arises as to what role a gay mixer can play in the crystallization of the concept of a gay mixer.
