By Walter Middlebrook

A recent letter from the Freshman Council to all Freshman students titled "John B. Hynes Civic Memorial Auditorium on April 21 will be four years to the day of a group of Greek colonels ousted the civilian government, and seized power. Since that time, hundreds of Greeks had been made political prisoners, and freedoms in that country have been sharply curtailed.
Demetracopoulos is leader of the Greek resistance movement in the United States who has refused to write for the newspaper, an outspoken critic of the ruling junta. For this reason, the FAC has turned its effort to encourgaging the departments to offer information and interesting presentations which would serve hopeful as a more productive means of course orientation than anything the FAC could provide.

Peter Butts, of the FAC, asked William Orchard '74 and a number of freshmen on the Freshman Council to organize another aspect of course orientation. After a good deal of preliminary discussion on the nature of a course decision and
possible forms of orientation, each member involved was as-
going to one or two departments. After a few weeks of arrangements, the present schedule of the presentations was established. Each presentation will convey the ideas of the Fresh Comm representatives and the departments' perspectives on what they expected from such talks and discussions.

The FAC has turned its effort to encour-
gaging the departments to offer
information and interesting pre-
sentations which would serve
hopeful as a more productive
means of course orientation than
anything the FAC could provide.

Peter Butts, of the FAC, asked
William Orchard '74 and a
number of freshmen on the
Freshman Council to organize
another aspect of course orientation. After a good deal of preliminary discussion on the
nature of a course decision and
possible forms of orientation,
each member involved was as-
going to one or two departments. After a few weeks of
arrangements, the present schedule of the presentations was established. Each presentation will
convey the ideas of the Fresh
Comm representatives and the
departments' perspectives on
what they expected from such
talks and discussions.

Harvey Baker, Elias P. Demetracopoulos, an outspoken critic of the ruling Greek junta, and former political editor for the Greek newspaper, "Ethnos," will be speaking at MIT on Wednesday, April 21 at 3 pm in the Sala de Puerto Rico.
He will lecture on "Greece: Four years under the junta."
April 21 will be four years to the
day of a group of Greek colo-
nels ousted the civilian government, and seized power. Since
that time, hundreds of Greeks
had been made political prisoners, and freedoms in that coun-
try have been sharply curtailed.
Demetracopoulos is leader of
the Greek resistance movement
in the United States who has
refused to write for the news-
paper, an outspoken critic of the ruling
junta. For this reason, the FAC
has turned its effort to encour-
gaging the departments to offer
information and interesting pre-
sentations which would serve
hopeful as a more productive
means of course orientation than
anything the FAC could provide.

Peter Butts, of the FAC, asked
William Orchard '74 and a
number of freshmen on the
Freshman Council to organize
another aspect of course orientation. After a good deal of preliminary discussion on the
nature of a course decision and
possible forms of orientation,
each member involved was as-
going to one or two departments. After a few weeks of
arrangements, the present schedule of the presentations was established. Each presentation will
convey the ideas of the Fresh
Comm representatives and the
departments' perspectives on
what they expected from such
talks and discussions.