Grapplers win third; WPI, BC slaughtered

A week ago Wednesday night, the Engineers' 3-1 record as MIT's grapplers edged Amherst, 21-16. The meet made the Bears believe that they had the mat power to pin, a double grapvine. Big way to winning as he struck hts Chuck Meeder, pierced with pain meet, and when the mele was made, it totalled 1236 points, mov-

The best MIT jump of 27 meters, at 12 and 4 and Saturday at 25 meters for 104.1 points and Schwartz '75 jumped 25.5 and 20.9 and Sunday at 20.5 for 104.1 points and Schwartz '75 jumped 25.5 and 20.9 and finished 8th with 110.1 points,

The team score, made up of three 13th, 20th, 23rd, and 26th places, with 25 and 104.1 points and 13th place, but Lacking on both defense and offense, the Engineers were outplayed 17-1 in the first seven minutes. Yale's taller guards shot over the Tech defense, and their ability to beat the Engineers on both control of both boards. By the time the first horn sounded, the tally was an embarrassing 79-56.

The New York trip saw the varsity twice victorious as they rolled over Yeshiva and New York Maritime, to post a season record of 9 wins and 2 losses. Both games were clearly no contest from the outset as MIT substituted extensively in the first halves. The Yeshivas game was highlighted by a 10 point performance from Ray White '74, who scored 13 of MIT's first 20 points. Bill Godfrey hailed in 17 rebounds and

The varsity indoor track cruised Bowdoin last Saturday, 88-70, 200 yo. run, to bring the track team's record to 5-2. Co-captain Al Lajo '72, showed his long jump, high jump, and the 46 yo. HH.

The best MIT jump of 27 meters, with 23.5 out of a possible 40 men's, dropping a close match, 6-2. Dyna Heavey and Kunets worked to a 1-1 tie against his foe, and undefeated Dave Jansson '68, first from right, Tech's all-dime scoring leader, looks on.

The annual indoor track meet was made by 12 and 4 and Saturday at 12 in a half.

The Engineers came out running in the second half, as the Engineers' inside game and several neat thefts had back his way out of his

The vanishing point performance from Ray White '74, who scored 13 of MIT's first 20 points. Bill Godfrey hailed in 17 rebounds and

The best MIT jump of 27 meters, at 12 and 4 and Saturday at 25 meters for 104.1 points and Schwartz '75 jumped 25.5 and 20.9 and Sunday at 20.5 for 104.1 points and Schwartz '75 jumped 25.5 and 20.9 and finished 8th with 110.1 points,

The team score, made up of three 13th, 20th, 23rd, and 26th places, with 25 and 104.1 points and 13th place, but Lacking on both defense and offense, the Engineers were outplayed 17-1 in the first seven minutes. Yale's taller guards shot over the Tech defense, and their ability to beat the Engineers on both control of both boards. By the time the first horn sounded, the tally was an embarrassing 79-56.

The New York trip saw the varsity twice victorious as they rolled over Yeshiva and New York Maritime, to post a season record of 9 wins and 2 losses. Both games were clearly no contest from the outset as MIT substituted extensively in the first halves. The Yeshivas game was highlighted by a 10 point performance from Ray White '74, who scored 13 of MIT's first 20 points. Bill Godfrey hailed in 17 rebounds and

The best MIT jump of 27 meters, at 12 and 4 and Saturday at 25 meters for 104.1 points and Schwartz '75 jumped 25.5 and 20.9 and Sunday at 20.5 for 104.1 points and Schwartz '75 jumped 25.5 and 20.9 and finished 8th with 110.1 points,

The team score, made up of three 13th, 20th, 23rd, and 26th places, with 25 and 104.1 points and 13th place, but Lacking on both defense and offense, the Engineers were outplayed 17-1 in the first seven minutes. Yale's taller guards shot over the Tech defense, and their ability to beat the Engineers on both control of both boards. By the time the first horn sounded, the tally was an embarrassing 79-56.

The New York trip saw the varsity twice victorious as they rolled over Yeshiva and New York Maritime, to post a season record of 9 wins and 2 losses. Both games were clearly no contest from the outset as MIT substituted extensively in the first halves. The Yeshivas game was highlighted by a 10 point performance from Ray White '74, who scored 13 of MIT's first 20 points. Bill Godfrey hailed in 17 rebounds and

The best MIT jump of 27 meters, at 12 and 4 and Saturday at 25 meters for 104.1 points and Schwartz '75 jumped 25.5 and 20.9 and Sunday at 20.5 for 104.1 points and Schwartz '75 jumped 25.5 and 20.9 and finished 8th with 110.1 points,

The team score, made up of three 13th, 20th, 23rd, and 26th places, with 25 and 104.1 points and 13th place, but Lacking on both defense and offense, the Engineers were outplayed 17-1 in the first seven minutes. Yale's taller guards shot over the Tech defense, and their ability to beat the Engineers on both control of both boards. By the time the first horn sounded, the tally was an embarrassing 79-56.

The New York trip saw the varsity twice victorious as they rolled over Yeshiva and New York Maritime, to post a season record of 9 wins and 2 losses. Both games were clearly no contest from the outset as MIT substituted extensively in the first halves. The Yeshivas game was highlighted by a 10 point performance from Ray White '74, who scored 13 of MIT's first 20 points. Bill Godfrey hailed in 17 rebounds and

The best MIT jump of 27 meters, at 12 and 4 and Saturday at 25 meters for 104.1 points and Schwartz '75 jumped 25.5 and 20.9 and Sunday at 20.5 for 104.1 points and Schwartz '75 jumped 25.5 and 20.9 and finished 8th with 110.1 points,

The team score, made up of three 13th, 20th, 23rd, and 26th places, with 25 and 104.1 points and 13th place, but Lacking on both defense and offense, the Engineers were outplayed 17-1 in the first seven minutes. Yale's taller guards shot over the Tech defense, and their ability to beat the Engineers on both control of both boards. By the time the first horn sounded, the tally was an embarrassing 79-56.

The New York trip saw the varsity twice victorious as they rolled over Yeshiva and New York Maritime, to post a season record of 9 wins and 2 losses. Both games were clearly no contest from the outset as MIT substituted extensively in the first halves. The Yeshivas game was highlighted by a 10 point performance from Ray White '74, who scored 13 of MIT's first 20 points. Bill Godfrey hailed in 17 rebounds and

The best MIT jump of 27 meters, at 12 and 4 and Saturday at 25 meters for 104.1 points and Schwartz '75 jumped 25.5 and 20.9 and Sunday at 20.5 for 104.1 points and Schwartz '75 jumped 25.5 and 20.9 and finished 8th with 110.1 points,

The team score, made up of three 13th, 20th, 23rd, and 26th places, with 25 and 104.1 points and 13th place, but Lacking on both defense and offense, the Engineers were outplayed 17-1 in the first seven minutes. Yale's taller guards shot over the Tech defense, and their ability to beat the Engineers on both control of both boards. By the time the first horn sounded, the tally was an embarrassing 79-56.

The New York trip saw the varsity twice victorious as they rolled over Yeshiva and New York Maritime, to post a season record of 9 wins and 2 losses. Both games were clearly no contest from the outset as MIT substituted extensively in the first halves. The Yeshivas game was highlighted by a 10 point performance from Ray White '74, who scored 13 of MIT's first 20 points. Bill Godfrey hailed in 17 rebounds and