JOSEF VON STERNBERG'S
The Blue Angel
STARRING MARLENE DIETRICH

Josef von Sternberg's THE BLUE ANGEL fuses the charming naturalism of Marlene Dietrich and the gutty expressionism of Emil Jannings into a harsh slice of realism. Professor Rath, a dignified university professor, falls in love with Lola Lola, a vulgar nightclub singer. His plunge from pride and importance to humiliation and insignificance is brutally charted in disconsolate visuals and piercing sound effects.

"Most skillful and vivid of von Sternberg's films...
"One of the most original films of the period"
"Remarkable"
