Kelly, Close new coaches
By Sandy Volka
Gordon V. Kelly, the Ammit Track Coach who has been respon able for MIT's success in the field events for the last eleven years, will become the new Head Track Coach, succeed ing Art Farnham, who has re tired.
As Head Coach, Kelly will be assisted by Peter M. Close, Direc tor of Sports Information, who will join the coaching staff as Assistant Track Coach and Head Cross Country Coach.
When interviewed, Close said that he was glad to be returning

Bridgewater icles skaters
By S. Vraechee Bridgewater State's varsity hockey team invaded the MIT rink last night, and handed Tech its third loss of the season, 6-3. The score, however, was not indicative of the play as the Engineers gamely skated with Bridgewater throughout most of the game.
Wide open, free skating high lighted first period action. With just over a minute gone, Bridge water turned home a bouncing puck in the crease for a 1-0 advantage. MIT's George Kenney was credited with a second period goal, and then won national championships compet ing in Greece, Ethiopia, Tune, Mooroco and Canada.
Coaching is not new to Close, as he has filled the same posi tions to which they have just been appointed on a temporary basis in 1964 when Art Farnham was on an AAU tour in Africa. Close also coached the birksham baseball team in 1965.
When interviewed, Close said
to competition after this last occasion inviting as it involves working with students.

Bridgewater topped the lead 1-0 initially, and then won the head to 4-2 in the second period, again registering a score on a house puck in front. That was the only defensive lapse, though, as both goal tenders turned in some outstanding saves in the period, marked by a slowdown in the tempo of the game.
A minor penalty against MIT at 3:02 of the third period led to the fifth Bridgewater score. Tight checking was the rule from them until late in the game, when passes from Rob Hunter '73 and Steve Warner '73 set up Kenney for a good slap shot from the
