three central criteria in a tenure decision: outstanding research, outstanding teaching, and service to the MIT community.

Part of Graves' problem is his lack of specialization. One MIT officer, in a candid moment, told this reporter that "in a sense, this paper began and has been carried to its logical end with the MIT Philosophy Department. He described a problem which has reappeared recently in the provost controversy: what is analytic philosophy? It also bemused the loss of a man was refused tenure, when membranes, a "bitterness that will continue to eat away at us." He seemed like to forget that this war ever occurred. But this would be a mistake. We must begin right now to re-evaluate the Vietnamese people. It must be clear that war cannot be forgotten. It has joined together to organize a Vietnam-America Friendship Week for the war of April 22 through 28. The week is being developed at over a dozen campuses in the Greater Boston area, and is centered on the hopes of the international peace movement. It is seen as a time during which all of us, regardless of our political views or beliefs, can come together to discuss the war, and the issues it brings.

During this time we hope to begin right now to re-evaluate the Vietnamese people. M. We are emerging from the endless war that has divided us and united us. The war's major impact has been on the American people, and especially on the student generation. The war has carried the slogan "Peace" — but these were no jubilant throngs to view it. The divisions, doubts, and pain remain. We cannot and should not be able to be ended by this war.

As a people we must face up to this reality. The war is over. Why did four administrations continue to prosecute the war? What does this say about our foreign policy? Most important, what has the war taught us about the nature of our own government? We must ensure that the attitudes and beliefs of the war are not. We must at least recognize the causes of the war, and how we can overcome. If we do not, the legacy of this war will continue to haunt us.

Finally, we need this help to resume Vietnamese students. We must be able to do what is needed to bring peace to our students. We also have a duty to keep people aware of the lessons of the war. We cannot end Vietnamese conflict, and yet still continue to be silent. The MF DWI's of this country are a time during which all of us, regardless of our political views or beliefs, can come together to discuss the war, and the issues it brings.

During this time we hope to begin right now to re-evaluate the Vietnamese people. It must be clear that war cannot be forgotten. It has joined together to organize a Vietnam-America Friendship Week for the war of April 22 through 28. The week is being developed at over a dozen campuses in the Greater Boston area, and is centered on the hopes of the international peace movement. It is seen as a time during which all of us, regardless of our political views or beliefs, can come together to discuss the war, and the issues it brings.

During this time we hope to begin right now to re-evaluate the Vietnamese people. It must be clear that war cannot be forgotten. It has joined together to organize a Vietnam-America Friendship Week for the war of April 22 through 28. The week is being developed at over a dozen campuses in the Greater Boston area, and is centered on the hopes of the international peace movement. It is seen as a time during which all of us, regardless of our political views or beliefs, can come together to discuss the war, and the issues it brings.

During this time we hope to begin right now to re-evaluate the Vietnamese people. It must be clear that war cannot be forgotten. It has joined together to organize a Vietnam-America Friendship Week for the war of April 22 through 28. The week is being developed at over a dozen campuses in the Greater Boston area, and is centered on the hopes of the international peace movement. It is seen as a time during which all of us, regardless of our political views or beliefs, can come together to discuss the war, and the issues it brings.

During this time we hope to begin right now to re-evaluate the Vietnamese people. It must be clear that war cannot be forgotten. It has joined together to organize a Vietnam-America Friendship Week for the war of April 22 through 28. The week is being developed at over a dozen campuses in the Greater Boston area, and is centered on the hopes of the international peace movement. It is seen as a time during which all of us, regardless of our political views or beliefs, can come together to discuss the war, and the issues it brings.

During this time we hope to begin right now to re-evaluate the Vietnamese people. It must be clear that war cannot be forgotten. It has joined together to organize a Vietnam-America Friendship Week for the war of April 22 through 28. The week is being developed at over a dozen campuses in the Greater Boston area, and is centered on the hopes of the international peace movement. It is seen as a time during which all of us, regardless of our political views or beliefs, can come together to discuss the war, and the issues it brings.

During this time we hope to begin right now to re-evaluate the Vietnamese people. It must be clear that war cannot be forgotten. It has joined together to organize a Vietnam-America Friendship Week for the war of April 22 through 28. The week is being developed at over a dozen campuses in the Greater Boston area, and is centered on the hopes of the international peace movement. It is seen as a time during which all of us, regardless of our political views or beliefs, can come together to discuss the war, and the issues it brings.

During this time we hope to begin right now to re-evaluate the Vietnamese people. It must be clear that war cannot be forgotten. It has joined together to organize a Vietnam-America Friendship Week for the war of April 22 through 28. The week is being developed at over a dozen campuses in the Greater Boston area, and is centered on the hopes of the international peace movement. It is seen as a time during which all of us, regardless of our political views or beliefs, can come together to discuss the war, and the issues it brings.

During this time we hope to begin right now to re-evaluate the Vietnamese people. It must be clear that war cannot be forgotten. It has joined together to organize a Vietnam-America Friendship Week for the war of April 22 through 28. The week is being developed at over a dozen campuses in the Greater Boston area, and is centered on the hopes of the international peace movement. It is seen as a time during which all of us, regardless of our political views or beliefs, can come together to discuss the war, and the issues it brings.

During this time we hope to begin right now to re-evaluate the Vietnamese people. It must be clear that war cannot be forgotten. It has joined together to organize a Vietnam-America Friendship Week for the war of April 22 through 28. The week is being developed at over a dozen campuses in the Greater Boston area, and is centered on the hopes of the international peace movement. It is seen as a time during which all of us, regardless of our political views or beliefs, can come together to discuss the war, and the issues it brings.