The Air Force ROTC College Program has 3 things to offer that other college programs don't.

1. 6,500 scholarships.
2. $100 monthly allowance.
3. Free flying lessons.

Enroll in Air Force ROTC.

Contact: Massachusetts Institute of Technology
At: x3-4472

Find Yourself A Future In Air Force ROTC.

---

NOTES

- Lewis & Clark Law School - Ms. Anne Kendrick will interview interested students on Wed., October 3, 3:00 p.m. to 12:00 noon, Thurs., Oct. 4 in 6-146.
- Attendance at two races, two track, satellite, miniature, or plain old RSS. Come on down to the Free Meeting of the MIT Auto Club and Reasons Club, October 3rd, in the Mezzanine Lounge of the Student Center.
- Senior interest in educational, theoretical, or analytical theory topics in cornel kohout (1973), as the George Wallace Observer, and possessing relevant academic or practical background, should contact Alan Goldberger or Prof. Thomas Mccord 34-422 X-5184.

The MIT Information Office will be having a continuous showing of the AMC/TV show "What About Tomorrow", which was produced by MIT in the Both Rooms (10-105). Today, it will run from 11 to 130. Wednesday, the half-hour show will be shown continuously from 11 to 2.

---

Engineering • Computer Science • Mathematics

---

Graduate Study Abroad

Fulbright and Marshall Scholarships

Apply to Foreign Study Office

Room 10-303

Deadline: October 9th

---

The Historical OLD VILNA SHUL

16 PHILLIPS STREET, BEACON HILL, BOSTON

Invites Its Friends to Join Them for

The 3rd Yahrzeit Day

TRADITIONAL ORTHODOX SERVICES

Evensing Services: Morning Services 7:30
Yom Kippur, Oct. 6
Ket Wolfe: 9:30 Morning Services 7:30 Yom: 10:30 a.m.

---

Outing Club builds N.H. cabin

(Continued from page 1)

Continued from page 1)

Outing Club meetins are informal: members shuffe through descriptions of the different excursions and sign up for the ones that interest them. Students who do not use the Club will have a varied set of activities each weekend, while others go on trips once a month.

One of the club's major outings this year is the Presidential Weekend, held from October 13-14. Some 50-100 students are expected to make the trip, which will coordinate with Wellesley, Smith, and Mount Holyoke College. Students will all stay at the new cabin club, but will go on various one-day excursions to a group of 10-19 people. Other outings planned for October are a Two-Day Flatwater Canoe Trip, a Foliage Day Bicycle Trip at Martha's Vineyard, and various overnight backpacking and rock-climbing trips.

From one-to-one to about one-half of the people on trips are women. Often women from other colleges join the Outing Club on trips.

As a service to its members the Outing Club issues equipment to them at reduced rates. Profits from rentals go towards purchasing new equipment.

For members who want to learn rock climbing, the club holds instruction at the Quincy Quarry. It also has published a guide to the quarry.

Members of the club pay a $3 membership fee. This covers the cost of a club newsletter which appears several times a year. "The Outing Club gives the MIT community a chance to get out into the wilderness," McKenzie concluded.

---

NO CHARGE FOR SEATS