4. job opportunities; faculty contact; academic and living exchanges; you name it. We believe that the UA can support an academic, social, and club events; UROP and the Harvard Exchange; get more money for the students. No candidate next year will be able to say the UA before him/her did nothing. When I was streaking, I risked turning my campaign into a joke. We are not a joke and we are quite serious... serious enough to do something. Get the student body to realize that they are dealing with a leader instead of a nebish. The next year will not be an easy one for the administration but we must show the support and Students in order to decide upon the ideas and goals. Zimmernan has streaked - this may be fun, but it doesn't solve any issues, nor will it get anything accomplished. Michel may have some good ideas and projects, and he has some programs that he wants to run. However, it takes at least some experience with putting on events and with running projects to be successful. It will take some experience in getting things done to make an effective UA. For the last few years UA's have made grand promises but have been unable to get the UA together or to get things done due to: lack of experience, frustration, or lack of time. We're not sure how to convince you that, for the first time in a long time, we are actually going to do something, but we are. We hope that you will believe this and vote for us, give Wallman-Moody the chance to do something.

3. PROJECTS - Our third goal is to accomplish specific projects. These include: more campus-wide "big weekend" social events (Kaleidoscope, carnivals, etc), more concerts, food and fuel-coops between dorms and fraternities; strength¬ ening and getting more money for the housemaster-tenant system, reinstitu¬ tors in fraternities; publicize and increase the Harvard Exchange; get more money for UROP, work-study, and scholarships; help organize de¬ ing is required to arouse the student body of getting the point across, but none as effective. I streaked to get us known to the students and to let the students know of the incident, we will go out - with money, advice, and manpower. We're taking a serious approach to the UA. We know that is has the potential to do many things. We've stated some of our ideas and goals. interested in the UA, then I don't regret doing it. True there are less jealousies ways of getting the point across, but none as effective. I streaked to get us known to the students and to let them know that there is one candidate among us who is willing to act decisively. One who can deliver action instead of going into hiber¬ nation after elected. Who isn't afraid to stand, or streak, for what he or she believes in. We will actively seek students instead of ignoring them. People who were shown after they see screwed by the admin¬ istration (ie. MacGregor, PKA, Burton fighters, and East Campion who had to put up with construction last year) must be able to come to us and get assistance (or if we know of the incident, we will go out to help). We won't stop until we have accomplished our aims. Concerts aren't a new social life, but they are a great place to start. October, December and April are good times to have there weekends. Mix¬ ers and coordinator with the events of Wellesley and other schools should make it impossible to find nothing else.

How long are we to allow the admin¬ istration to ignore 3751 undergraduates? A Governing council will be proposed consisting of Faculty, Administration, and Students in order to decide upon the major issues concerning the Institute in¬ stead of hark hunter Deans such as Browning, Wheatley, Holden, and Bishop. We will work amicably with the admin¬ istration but we must show the support of the students behind us. I am convinced that they will be more responsive when the realize that they are dealing with a leader instead of a nebish. The next year will not be an easy one for the admin¬ istration, but it will be an effective one for the students. No candidate next year will be able to say the UA before him/her did nothing.

When I was streaking, I risked turning my campaign into a joke. We are not a joke and we are quite serious... serious enough to do something. Get the student government out of the hands of the grease.
