Draper labs picketed:

arguments, but no fights

By Jules Moller

The conclusion reached by one of the fourteen Harvard and Radcliffe student groups and single MIT student picketing Draper Labs last Friday was that, "We started Vietnam and made it a lousy business." They then divided up so as to distribute literature at both the main and shipping entrances on Albany street and at the entrance to another building on nearby Os.

Draper labs picketed:

arguments, but no fights

By Jules Moller

The conclusion reached by one of the fourteen Harvard and Radcliffe student groups and single MIT student picketing Draper Labs last Friday was that, "We started Vietnam and made it a lousy business." They then divided up so as to distribute literature at both the main and shipping entrances on Albany street and at the entrance to another building on nearby Os.

Draper labs picketed:

arguments, but no fights

By Jules Moller

The conclusion reached by one of the fourteen Harvard and Radcliffe student groups and single MIT student picketing Draper Labs last Friday was that, "We started Vietnam and made it a lousy business." They then divided up so as to distribute literature at both the main and shipping entrances on Albany street and at the entrance to another building on nearby Os.

Draper labs picketed:

arguments, but no fights

By Jules Moller

The conclusion reached by one of the fourteen Harvard and Radcliffe student groups and single MIT student picketing Draper Labs last Friday was that, "We started Vietnam and made it a lousy business." They then divided up so as to distribute literature at both the main and shipping entrances on Albany street and at the entrance to another building on nearby Os.

Draper labs picketed:

arguments, but no fights

By Jules Moller

The conclusion reached by one of the fourteen Harvard and Radcliffe student groups and single MIT student picketing Draper Labs last Friday was that, "We started Vietnam and made it a lousy business." They then divided up so as to distribute literature at both the main and shipping entrances on Albany street and at the entrance to another building on nearby Os.

Draper labs picketed:

arguments, but no fights

By Jules Moller

The conclusion reached by one of the fourteen Harvard and Radcliffe student groups and single MIT student picketing Draper Labs last Friday was that, "We started Vietnam and made it a lousy business." They then divided up so as to distribute literature at both the main and shipping entrances on Albany street and at the entrance to another building on nearby Os.

Draper labs picketed:

arguments, but no fights

By Jules Moller

The conclusion reached by one of the fourteen Harvard and Radcliffe student groups and single MIT student picketing Draper Labs last Friday was that, "We started Vietnam and made it a lousy business." They then divided up so as to distribute literature at both the main and shipping entrances on Albany street and at the entrance to another building on nearby Os.