account the percentage of overall overcrowding."

When asked why someone who was doubled-up in an East Campus single wouldn't just pay half the normal rent, Art Beals, Assistant Director of Housing and Dining, replied, "We must take into account the consistency with other rooms in the system. Paying one half in a doubled single just isn't consistent. There are other services provided besides room space."

Brammer said that any small profit made by the overcrowding would just appear as "noise money" at the end of the year, and would help pay for unbudgeted expenses. "All money made by overcrowding in any way goes back into the system before the year is out," he added.

Food service

Food service cost for the fall term was raised 13.5% and costs for IAP and spring term were raised 13.8%, and costs for IAP and spring term were raised 14.9% respectively, according to the report.

The committee's report also outlined two new commons options to supplement the regular 15 meal contract. A 19 meal contract will include the 15 regular weekday meals, plus brunch and dinner on weekends. This contract will cost $110, $25, and $120 more than the 15 meal contract for fall, IAP, and spring terms respectively.

The other new option, called a 1/3 contract, provides 25 each of breakfasts, lunches, and dinners each term to be taken any time during the term, and seven of each meal during IAP. It will cost $145, $45, and $155 for the fall, IAP, and spring terms, respectively, according to the report.
