Junior Greg Hunter’s heroic Engineer women’s crew

Instead of rowing a standard by the-Williams coach, was ticult River rather than on host second in the JV fours race. eights competition and first and Rhode Island in the varsity Williams and the Unive.rsity of having taken fir gt place. over crew team.) distance of 1300 meters was current and moderate wind, a men’s eight covers 1500 meters in accordingly. Normally a womand the starting line was set that:-a race lasting six minutes followed for the day’s races. who placed fourth in the decathclads in the Tufts win. Hunter, efforts paced the Engineer thin-avenged an earlier indoor loss to openV last Saturday, the MIT against Tufts, and earned a first lon at- the Boston College Relays Senior co-captain Gary Wilkes Dr, Lewvvis Mumford
the Department of Urban Studies and Planning and Charles Abrams Visiting Professor,
The Old Culture and the New Technology
The Final Lecture in a Series of Three
Dr. Lewis Mumford
Charles Abrams Visiting Professor,
Department of Urban Studies and Planning Third Lecture: Tuesday, April 29, 1975 4:00 P.M., Lecture Hall 9-150

The Person Versus the Automaton Sponsored by the Technology and Culture Seminar, the Department of Urban Studies and Planning and the School or Humanities and Social Science

Baseball snaps four-loss streak

By Lawrence J. David

(Maurice Hunter ’75 is the MIT varsity baseball manager.) The MIT baseball Beaver skidded to a 7-8 mark with four consecutive losses to Harvard, 9-2, to Lowell Tech, 7-3, to Wesleyan, 14-11, and to Brandt, 7-3, before edging Boston State on Tuesday, 5-4, to the season’s slate at 9-8.

MIT batters raised Harvard pitching for eleven hits, but stranded eleven runners and could manage only two wins tie by John Cavolowsky ’76 after Harvard had tagged the game with a 9-0 lead. Harvard had only eight hits, but MIT pitchers issued 11 walks and MIT fielders committed seven errors, as the Beaver nailed their own coffin shut. In addition, Don Prober ’76, a solid southpaw hurler; had posted a 0.79 ERA in 11 innings of relief, was lost to the club for the rest of the season when a pitch fractured his left arm in the fourth inning.

Five more fielding errors, all in the last three innings, led to five unearned Lowell Tech runs and 7-3 loss over their Cambridge rivals. Lowell Tech left repair Tipp Durkin baffled the Beavers, who had only six hits in going the route for his victory. Mike Royal ’76 aborked his second loss against four wins.

The ECAC New England
champs, the Wesleyan Cardinals, had a 10-3 lead, but the Beavers pulled to within 10-9 before a four-run, two-out rally by Wesleyan in the sixth put the game out of reach. Wesleyan’s explosive hitting attack (234 team batting average last year) rocked Hal Olson ’75 in the second inning with seven runs in then half of the fifth, the light of which was Royal’s three-run double.

Ken Smith ’77 had struck out the first two Wesleyan batters in the sixth when Cardinal batting star Rick Burpee rammed a fast-down the right field line and out of the park to ignite a rally of five straight hits, one of which mutilated when Royal and Steve Edison ’76 collided under a fly ball that should have been the third out of the inning. With the Cardinal lead 14-9, Wesleyan ace Dave Durian, who pitched the last four frames, was scratched for two more runs, but it wasn’t enough and the Cardials prevailed, 14-11.

Brandeis batters ripped two doubles, a triple, and two home runs (one pulled short) off Royal and Cavolowsky while again eleven Beavers died on base in a 1-2-3 romp by the Wesleyan nine on Monday. Royal walked ten batters in his eight innings, but only three of the eight runs he allowed were earned because of two crucial errors by shortstop Mike Dittelman ’76.

Against Boston State the Beavers put it back together and posted their first home win of the season, 5-4. Herr Kummer ’75 crunched out four hits and drove in four. Rick Dravitzky drove in three runs with two hits, and David Tsach ’75 pitched 2-1/3 innings of shutdown relief for the win.
Each team wound up with eleven hits. Boston State stran-13 men and MIT 12.

Smith pitched a fine game but got the two-out blues in the seventh after an error by Jeff Felinon ‘78, and MIT was down 4-3 at the end of the inning after Youach had come in to face the Boston State catcher to grounded out, ending the threat.
Kummer started the winning rally in the bottom of the seventh with a sharp double to left center and Felton singled him in. Felton moved to second on a ground single by Yauch. Felton was then forced when David Wang ’75 and Vicci Maccioni 76 drew walks.

Bowman Scientific
MX-100 Calculators originally $199.95, will sell for $79

New, with full guarantee.

Limited quantity.

Larry Cole, Inc.
617-237-1260 (Wellesley)