Social science rules to change

(Continued from page 1) applied for the legislation of social science, according to Mr. Wener, Chairman of the Department of Political Science. Professor Ong will discuss topics from analytics.

* Helena McDougal, a writer and matinee in the MIT Medical Department will speak on "Services in the MIT Medical Department for Women" Thursday, Nov. 5 at 12:15 in Room 13-159. The talk will be sponsored by the MIT Committee for the Right to Choose.

* Today is Halloween, and to celbrate the event the Green Building will be turned into a oumukin. Two students dressed as a pumpkin, two students dressed as the pumpkin, will hold a Regional Workday at Dartmouth Oct. 31 to Nov. 2. The topic will be "Sejyphon and Ashkhen" Call Hillel to make reservations. Cost: $15.

* Editorial Assistants wanted for the MIT Writing Program in the following disciplines: economics, law, finance, architectural management, etc. The function of the editors will be to edit with proofreaders and select drafts for the purpose of promoting clarity, concise writing, coherence, and grammatical correctness. Call Paul to Arthur D. Bernhardt at 254-3812 or 787-0602.

* Jazz Celebrations presents Poetry and Jazz: Hollowed Be, a Journey and other poems by Jack Power at the "Innenfree School" on Sunday, Nov. 9 at 6pm. It will be held at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, 13 Neubury St., Boston. Donation: $1.50.

* The sculpture of Russ Brami will be shown at the Piano Craft Gallery, 791 Tremont Street, between Nov. 13 and Dec. 13. An opening reception will be held on Thursday, Nov. 13, from 6 to 8pm.

* On Wednesday, Nov. 9, at 3pm, Endel Kalam will conduct the Boston University Chamber Orchestra in works by Haydn, Mendelssohn, and Purcell. On Friday, Nov. 9, at 7pm, Jerome Rose will conduct the Boston University Symphony Orchestra in its first concert of the season. Both concerts are open to the public free of charge, and will be performed at the School for the Arts Concert Hall, 253-3747. For further information and a free Monthly Events Calendar, please call the School for the Arts Office of Public Relations at 253-3345.

* Jazz Celebrations presents Poetry and Jazz: Hollowed Be, a Journey and other poems by Jack Power at the "Innenfree School" on Sunday, Nov. 9 at 6pm. It will be held at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, 13 Neubury St., Boston. Donation: $1.50.

* The sculpture of Russ Brami will be shown at the Piano Craft Gallery, 791 Tremont Street, between Nov. 13 and Dec. 13. An opening reception will be held on Thursday, Nov. 13, from 6 to 8pm.

* On Wednesday, Nov. 9, at 3pm, Endel Kalam will conduct the Boston University Chamber Orchestra in works by Haydn, Mendelssohn, and Purcell. On Friday, Nov. 9, at 7pm, Jerome Rose will conduct the Boston University Symphony Orchestra in its first concert of the season. Both concerts are open to the public free of charge, and will be performed at the School for the Arts Concert Hall, 253-3747. For further information and a free Monthly Events Calendar, please call the School for the Arts Office of Public Relations at 253-3345.

* Jazz Celebrations presents Poetry and Jazz: Hollowed Be, a Journey and other poems by Jack Power at the "Innenfree School" on Sunday, Nov. 9 at 6pm. It will be held at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, 13 Neubury St., Boston. Donation: $1.50.

* The sculpture of Russ Brami will be shown at the Piano Craft Gallery, 791 Tremont Street, between Nov. 13 and Dec. 13. An opening reception will be held on Thursday, Nov. 13, from 6 to 8pm.

* On Wednesday, Nov. 9, at 3pm, Endel Kalam will conduct the Boston University Chamber Orchestra in works by Haydn, Mendelssohn, and Purcell. On Friday, Nov. 9, at 7pm, Jerome Rose will conduct the Boston University Symphony Orchestra in its first concert of the season. Both concerts are open to the public free of charge, and will be performed at the School for the Arts Concert Hall, 253-3747. For further information and a free Monthly Events Calendar, please call the School for the Arts Office of Public Relations at 253-3345.