A Lincoln Continental which had been reported stolen on Monday at 10am was recovered by MIT Officers an hour later in the Albany Street Garage.

A resident of Nichols Dorm surprised an intruder standing in his room last Saturday morning. The suspect fled successfully, taking with him the student’s $80 Texas Instruments SR-50 Calculator.

Four people were the victims of wallet thieves Saturday night during the course of a party held in the Labeled Dining Rooms. Little or no door control was practiced during the latter part of the affair. The victims had lost their wallets in bags and coats which were left piled on chairs.
