RIP-OFF INSURANCE

There are so many muggings and robberies around here, most insurance companies won't write insurance on a lot of people in a lot of neighborhoods. But The Congress will! Rip off this ad—or call us at 482-7800—to find out how you can get guaranteed Federal protection against rip-offs for as little as $30 a year.

Congress Insurance Agency
Federal Crime Insurance Div., 33 Broad St., Boston, Mass. 02109

HUMANITAS: AN EVOLVING PERSPECTIVE

Ideas and Images of Humanity in the West

A weekly lecture series for the M.I.T. community

Thursdays, 4:00-6:00 PM
Lecture Hall 9-150

February 5
Romantic Ideas and the Revolution in European Consciousness

Isaiah Berlin
(University of Oxford)

February 12
Images of the Human in European Literature: Nineteenth and Twentieth Century

Erich Heller
(University of Chicago)

February 26
George: Poetic and Scientific Sensibility

Jerome Letwin
(M.I.T.)

March 4
Fried and the Understanding of Human Nature

Grete Bebraing
(Harvard, Emerita)

March 11
Marx's View of Humanity

To be announced

March 18
Twentieth Century Biology: Changing Conceptions of the Emergence of Life

Everett Mendelsohn
(Princeton)

April 1
Artificial Intelligence: the Computer Concept of the Mind

Herbert Simon
(University of California)

April 8
The Implications of Linguistics for Contemporary Literature

George Steiner
(Cambridge University)

April 22
Modes of Contemporary Imagination

Robert Coles
(Harvard)

April 29
Social Ethics and Social Action

Robert Lifton
(Yale)

May 6
Life in Times of Crisis

Victor Weiskopf
(M.I.T.)

May 13
The Impact of Quantum Theory Upon the Scientific World View

CONVENER: JUDITH WECHSLER, Associate Professor of the History of Art, M.I.T.

SPONSORED BY THE TECHNOLOGY AND CULTURE SEMINAR AT M.I.T.