Police Blotter

(The Police Blotter is a report written by the Campus Patrol on crimes, incidents and actions on the MIT campus each week.)

Dorm Room Larceny

Unknown thieves entered the room of two west campus dormitory residents early in the week, and helped themselves to three ladies' overcoats valued at $240. The victims had been in the habit of leaving the suite open and unlocked a good bit, which doubtless proved of significant aid to the thieves in their endeavors.

Unsecured Wallet Stolen

A staff member in the Main Complex left his coat hanging on the back of a chair in his unlocked office while he stepped out for a moment. Upon his return he found the jacket still intact but the wallet he'd left tucked in the inside pocket. The latter was recovered sometime later, discarded elsewhere in the building. The cash belonging therein however had "gone south" with the thief.

Suspect Apprehended

An officer patrolling the Main Complex area on Friday stopped a teenager who looked somehow familiar in a rather unpleasant way. A quick check revealed a past arrest record at MIT and further the existence of an outstanding arrest warrant issued by the Somerville District Court. Deported for a short time, the fellow was turned over to the custody of Somerville Detectives, who arrived quickly with the arrest warrant in hand.

Auto Alarm Saves a Car

Alerted by the sound of his own car's alarm, a resident looked out the window of his west side dorm room, spotting two youths sprinting away from his vehicle, disappearing from view down Memorial Drive. Though one vent window was damaged, the rest of the car was intact.

Maverick Stolen

The owner of a new Ford Maverick which had no alarm was not so lucky as the fellow mentioned above. Leaving it one Memorial Drive late Tuesday afternoon, he discovered it missing when he returned the next day.

Parts Theft Foiled

A would-be auto parts thief wasa wearing a "wee-hours" Monday morning when Officers found him hiding beneath a parked car in the Westgate parking lot. The crestfallen fellow, whose presence in the area was first detected by an alert Westgate security guard, was found near a partially stripped vehicle after a short search. Taken into custody, he was transported to the Cambridge City Jail, where he was booked on charges of Malicious Destruction of Private Property and Grand Larceny. Trial in the matter is scheduled for later this month.

MIT can teach you something you may have never thought you could learn.

The subject is leadership. The course is Army ROTC. The entire curriculum is exciting, challenging, and flexible. So flexible that, if qualified, you can enter at any time during your first two years on campus. Through practical experience, you will learn how to lead. The acquired discipline of mind and spirit and the ability to perform under pressure are important. The people who demonstrate these qualities are the people we want to become Army officers.

As an Army officer, you will not only have to manage people but money and materials as well. To make more important planning decisions than most young executives.

At MIT, you can learn what it takes to lead.
