To the Editor:

In New York City at the Museum of Modern Art that Antonio received his inspiration. Grazing on some of the most powerful and beautiful sculptures of modern times, he suddenly realized that he could do that. "I could do that," he said. To the Editor:

Mike McNamee's piece in The Tech, April 9, accurately reported that the staff position of Lobby 7 Coordinator is being eliminated at the end of this academic year. He also correctly cited the sharp reduction in administrative and support budgets as the reason for this action.

What I cannot accept in McNamee's report is his use of the words "countersexual" and "unpopular" as a summary judgment of the efforts by Suzanne Weinberg and the Lobby 7 Committee over the past four years to make the Lobby a lively, enterprising, informative place.

Feedback

Suzanne Weinberg and Lobby 7

To the Editor:

Mike McNamee's piece in The Tech, April 9, accurately reported that the staff position of Lobby 7 Coordinator is being eliminated at the end of this academic year. He also correctly cited the sharp reduction in administrative and support budgets as the reason for this action.

I've met many prostitutes who surely have had more experience in sex than I ever will. Yet they are depressed, bitter, cynical, filled with disgust and hate. They hang their heads at the man on the street for his money, and wait for it all to be over. Some of these women will tell you that psychological exploitation of the sexes and the depths of human emotions means that Kopelson champions.

I've met many prostitutes who surely have had more experience in sex than I ever will. Yet they are depressed, bitter, cynical, filled with disgust and hate. They hang their heads at the man on the street for his money, and wait for it all to be over. Some of these women will tell you that psychological exploitation of the sexes and the depths of human emotions means that Kopelson champions.

I've met many prostitutes who surely have had more experience in sex than I ever will. Yet they are depressed, bitter, cynical, filled with disgust and hate. They hang their heads at the man on the street for his money, and wait for it all to be over. Some of these women will tell you that psychological exploitation of the sexes and the depths of human emotions means that Kopelson champions.

I've met many prostitutes who surely have had more experience in sex than I ever will. Yet they are depressed, bitter, cynical, filled with disgust and hate. They hang their heads at the man on the street for his money, and wait for it all to be over. Some of these women will tell you that psychological exploitation of the sexes and the depths of human emotions means that Kopelson champions.

I've met many prostitutes who surely have had more experience in sex than I ever will. Yet they are depressed, bitter, cynical, filled with disgust and hate. They hang their heads at the man on the street for his money, and wait for it all to be over. Some of these women will tell you that psychological exploitation of the sexes and the depths of human emotions means that Kopelson champions.

I've met many prostitutes who surely have had more experience in sex than I ever will. Yet they are depressed, bitter, cynical, filled with disgust and hate. They hang their heads at the man on the street for his money, and wait for it all to be over. Some of these women will tell you that psychological exploitation of the sexes and the depths of human emotions means that Kopelson champions.