Imagine a family of 20,000 members in 80 countries around the world — that's a pretty big family, but that's what the Salesians are all about. They are a community of family-minded individuals united for a common goal.

The Salesians are made up of Priests, Brothers and Clerics — men studying for the priesthood but not yet ordained — who live and work together, equals in the Society, observing the same rules and enjoying the same privileges. St. John Bosco specifically wanted his Salesian communities to possess a warm, family like spirit where each member can grow and where both triumphs and setbacks are shared in the companionship of his fellow Salesians.

The Salesian is highly trained for his mission, and he has the opportunity to go as far as he wants to; for the better his education, the better service he can give both to the Society and to the people he helps. He achieves his rewards in the realization of the good he accomplishes and the youthful hearts and minds he inspires.
