Adler recently announced changes in this year's curriculum: "Concourse lecturers will assign the same problem sets as in regular freshman core subjects, occasionally with additional lecture material. These extra lectures are designed to integrate the course areas into a universal theme."

Adler said that approximately 170 members of the class of 1980 expressed interest in Concourse this fall, and a lottery was held to select fifty students for this year, "an "ideal" number of participants," Adler explained. "The optimal balance be-
