Two Cars Stolen, Later Recovered

Two cars, one from Westgate, the other from the West Garage, were recovered by municipal officers in Boston and Cambridge shortly after being stolen from MIT last week. In the former instance, officers from Boston's Division #15 (Charlestown) made the recovery even before the owner knew the car was missing. In the latter case Cambridge officers apprehended a juvenile at the wheel of the vehicle shortly after it was reported stolen.

Camera Larcenies

Camera equipment valued at around $1,000 was reported stolen in two separate incidents last week. Officers are investigating both cases.

Auto Thieves

A parking officer surprised two men shortly after 2am Thursday attempting to steal a car in the Westgate area. The pair fled in another car at a high rate of speed heading eastward on Memorial Drive. Although pursued by MIT and MDC Police Officers, the pair made good their escape into the Charlestown area.

Plain Talk about Profits

Does our company's financial history, Armco has averaged 6% profits on each dollar of sales. We pay out part of our earnings immediately in dividends to Armco's 100,000 shareholders. So out of each nickel, we have perhaps 6¢ left to invest in new jobs.

Building $50,000 jobs—7¢ at a time—hard to do. At this rate, we must sell another $1,500,000 worth of products and services to clear enough money for a single new job. That's why better profits are important. They make more jobs. Even Government jobs. The Government's money comes from taxes on all of us who work.

Next time some one calls at 'money-grubbing business' ask him what he'd do without it. He's sneering at "money-grubbing business.' ask him what he'd do without it. In the end, he'd be sneering at his own job chances, and yours.
