Scoopers on strike

one of the union members who said five members of SIC’EM worked there full time.

Joey contended that everything proposed by SIC’EM is for their own benefit. He cited the union’s demand for no layoffs, explaining that ice cream is a seasonal business. He pointed out that Steve’s hasn’t made a profit in four years. “The Somerville Board of Health asked Steve to demand for no layoffs. explaining their own benefit. He cited the union’s Board of Health asked Steve to currently run the store.”

Gus Rancatore’s sister Miriam also worked at Steve’s, and joined her fellow union members in the strike. She said, “I personally like Joey. I would rather we would come up with a mutual understanding.”
