Begin concerned with US arms sales to Egypt — Israeli Prime Minister Begin announced that he would visit the United States next month for a three day talk at the White House in response to what many Israelis feel is a "shift in US Middle East policy." This feeling was sharpened by the US decision to supply Egypt and Saudi Arabia with military planes.

Coal owners resume talks with miners — Under the threat of public denunciation by President Carter, the coal operators agreed to return to the bargaining with striking mine workers. Earlier, the coal operators had refused to return to the talks because they believed "the country should not be held hostage of any group which uses the power of the picket line.

Dean supports students
In response to students as evidence of a general tightening up of an academic environment that is already a demanding one. Some are disaffected by what they view as a drought of students by faculty.
The Institute in no country club with rare exceptions. The crusts work as hard, perhaps harder, than those on any campus. Our students always have, but today their situation is complicated by additional financial pressures — reflected for one thing in the increasing job level with each succeeding year — and in their anxieties about the job market after graduation.
The one thing they don't need is greater pressure, even the perception of greater pressure.
My primary objection to a change in drop date is its symbolic significance to the students. It will be read as a sign that we don't have confidence in their ability to make choices. For the sake of that small percentage who may gain by having their errors prevented (and there are some) we will have soared a far larger number who make effective use of a more flexible system.
I urge you to keep the rules as they are and to consider whether we cannot improve the systems of advising as the better way to help the needy few.

Thank you.

"I WON'T SIGN UNTIL I TALK TO DATA GENERAL"

Woe be those who sign with someone else before talking to Data General. Because Data General is the third largest computer company in the world in computer shipments.

After only nine years, we've installed over 44,500 systems — more than Sperry-Univac, NCR, Control Data, and Raytheon combined. Last year alone, we announced a new product every 15 working days. And shipped a new system as fast as the Sperry-Univac, NCR, Control Data, and Raytheon combined. Last year alone, we announced a new product every 15 working days. And shipped a new system.

That's the kind of dynamic growth that has turned two other large companies.
