Police Blotter

Woman Robbed
A woman walking alone on Carlton Street last Friday evening at approximately 7:45 was accosted by four teenage youths near the corner of Main Street. One asked for the time and then asked if she had any money. When she said "no," another of the group pulled out a knife and forced her to turn over her wallet. They fled before the victim could notify the police.

Youth Arrested in duPont
Two youths, one armed with a hunting knife, were arrested late last night in the duPont Athletic Complex when a dispute over the right to use the facility erupted into an armed assault on an MIT student. The dispute arose when the two teenagers, who had no permission to be present on the campus, refused to leave the basketball court when asked to do so by an MIT athlete. Heated words passed between the two youth and the athlete which ended with the youth pulling a knife and threatening the student. Six Campus Police Officers arrived moments later and took the knife wielding youth into custody, charging him with the possession of a dangerous weapon.

The arrestment, the next day took over seven hours to complete, since the youth consistently lied about his identity. Several people in Boston whom the defendant identified at various stages of the proceedings as being his parents, and who when contacted by the Probation Department swore that they were in fact his parents, turned out to be merely adult acquaintances of the youth who had no true consanguineous relationship with him, but who were merely attempting to assist him in evading the law. The District Attorney's Office is considering, at the Judge's request, whether to bring indictments against these adults for obstruction of justice.

After more than four hours of further delay, the true identity of the youth was finally determined. At that time it was discovered that he was wanted by the Boston Police for similar crimes in that city; he held several outstanding arrest warrants for him.

Reminded to the custody of the Massachusetts Dept. of Youth Services, his trial, which like all juvenile proceedings will be closed to the public, was scheduled for early in March.

River Ice Dangerous
With temperatures this week up to the mid-thirties by mid-afternoon, and with a week-end snowfall approaching the forecast, it seems to be a very dangerous time on the river. Besides the current, there is an extreme danger of ice jams building up along the river. People are reminded to stay off the ice and keep an eye on the River Patrolmen who are working to keep people off the ice.

Class Ring Stolen
The M.I.T. class ring of a freshman Hall resident was stolen Wednesday in the Student Center. The ring, valued at $100, was new; it had never been worn by its owner. It disappeared from the pocket of his jacket which was left in the room of the "pool room" for about forty-five minutes while the victim played one of the machines after having parked the ring up in the Building 10 lobby.

Break Made at E53
Officers are investigating a break at the Harvard Building Monday night, which resulted in the loss of a valuable office machine.

Data Phone Vanishes
A Data Phone valued at $300 was stolen early this week from a room in Building 31 which services over 600 students in five classes. Although the room does get constantly heavy use, officers have as yet no suspects.

Service, not service charges.
Good service isn't something you should have to pay for. So when you call, your apartment or anything like it, there's no service charge locked in. And if it'll only take ten minutes, that's a need.

I'm my own boss.
I work for Schlumberger.

There's nothing routine about a career with Schlumberger. Just ask Larry Gutman who joined us a year ago.

"Working as a field engineer for Schlumberger is everything I thought it could be," says Larry. "I like to be outdoors. Work with my hands. And keep my own hours."

"I'm responsible for myself, my crew—and everything that happens on the job. It's really exciting to make things work out right."

"Some people aren't cut out for this. It takes a special person. I work long, hard hours—and sometimes it's tough to stay awake.

"But it's worth it. Because I'm satisfied with myself and my work...and you can't beat the money."

Ready for a challenge? Maybe this is for you. If you're a graduating senior in electrical or mechanical engineering, or physics, let's talk. Please contact your placement office.
