Work Week: "Every year, the fraternities reserve a week to ten days before Rush Week for their version of spring cleaning, Work Week. During this period, the average fraternity is buried under paint chips, cartons, and other assorted mess and junk. A visitor to such a house on the first weekend of Work Week can scarcely believe that this is the same house as the spic and span one presented to the freshmen the following Friday."

“If we have to eat in the mud, we’ll have the picnic outdoors.” —Barry Newman
(A could have been famous quote)