Death on the Nile

a Paramount release:

Directed by John Guillermin:

Staring Peter Ustinov, David Niven, etc.:

Now playing at the Sack Cotheti.

Directed by John Guillermin; has just killed Linnet Ridgew'at, "the.:

Nile, with an assortment of very:

with Peter Ustinov as Hercule Poirot. :

we now have another novel from Agatha Christie's vast:

and make everyone gets killed off, there is still

(Maggie Smith) who was forced by Lin-dran off to marry Linnet? Or the woman :

richest girl in the world." Is it the insanely :

It seemed obvious that

As for the identity of the murderer, you'll have to find out for yourself, for that about half-way through, which is better

December 2

CBR:

26-100.

Vincent Price Double Feature:

Fri., 7 & 10pm, 26-100.

The Ten Little Indians), And Then There Were None

And, of course, someone sees this new

As any rational man can taste.

Refreshments are

The King and I., 6:30 & 9pm, 26-100.

Vincent Price Double Feature:

Fri., 7 & 10pm, 26-100.

The King and I., 6:30 & 9pm, 26-100.

The Max Coffeehouse performers in a available, free admission. Fri., Oct. 27, from 8pm to 1am in the Mezzanine

Pat Paulsen: A Lecture in Humor

Presented by the Lecture Series Committee,

Tues., Oct. 24, 8pm in Kresge Auditorium. Tickets cost $1.50 with MIT or Wellesley ID, $3 general admission, and are available in Lobby 10 and at the door.

In TOWN

Frank Zappa at the North Shore Coliseum, Wed., Oct. 25 at 8pm, tickets $8 in advance, $9 day general admission.

Death on the Nile

It's too good to gulp.

Don't look now! But there's a beautiful new us on the way.

We're changing our look. So you'll have a brighter and better McDonald's to look at and dine in. We'll have a grand new entrance and beautiful new tables. There'll be lots of greenery and plenty of bright atmosphere. There are a few things we promise not to change. Like our good hot food and fast, friendly service. So thanks for putting up with the inconvenience while we remodel. But we know it will be worth it once you see our new look.

463 Massachusetts Avenue

Central Square

Cambridge, MA