Newman said that he was hoping to be issue oriented. He said that there are critical issues, but there are no new issues that have not been discussed before. Newman noted that it takes thirty to forty hours of his time a week, and that his time in his living group has been reduced to "sleeping time." He also stated that he has spent 49 percent of his time on the UA's Affairs and was extremely supportive.

Newman said that he was hoping for a turnout of better than fifty percent. When asked what the UA would do to help achieve this, he said that large ads and posters would be used. Newman also noted that the candidates generally urge a large turnout and said he hoped for a large turnout from fraternity members.

Complainant told Campus Police that she had seen a well-dressed male attempt to remove her wallet from her handbag, which she had left unattended on a chair while she returned a book to the shelf. The student ran to the front desk to advise the library attendant of what had taken place. While telling her story to the attendant, the subject hurried past them and disappeared down a stairwell. Attendant was unsuccessful in stopping the subject by a voice command.
