By Gregg Stave
Seven members of the men's swim team represented MIT last weekend at the Division III Nationals held in Genesee, New York. Preston Vorlicek '79, the team captain, picked up All-American honors for the third straight year by finishing eighth in the 200-yard breaststroke.

When Vorlicek came to MIT, his goal was not to qualify for the nationals but to be a good swimmer and to compete in the NEC Championships. Vorlicek's ambition was to finish in the top five in the 200-yard breaststroke at the nationals. He achieved this goal and then went on to win his event. Vorlicek also qualified for the 200-yard freestyle relay.

In the overall team competition, MIT finished 8-1, placing third in both the varsity and JV team competitions. Vorlicek's individual performance was outstanding, as he placed eighth in the 200-yard breaststroke and second in the 200-yard freestyle. His time in the 200-yard breaststroke was 2:04.9, which is a new personal best.

In the meet, Vorlicek's individual performance was impressive. He placed eighth in the 200-yard breaststroke with a time of 2:04.9, which is a new personal best. Vorlicek also qualified for the 200-yard freestyle relay and was a member of the varsity and JV teams.

The team's performance was exceptional, as they placed third in both the varsity and JV team competitions. Vorlicek's individual performance was outstanding, as he placed eighth in the 200-yard breaststroke and second in the 200-yard freestyle. His time in the 200-yard breaststroke was 2:04.9, which is a new personal best.

In the overall team competition, MIT finished 8-1, placing third in both the varsity and JV team competitions. Vorlicek's individual performance was impressive, as he placed eighth in the 200-yard breaststroke and second in the 200-yard freestyle. His time in the 200-yard breaststroke was 2:04.9, which is a new personal best.