Class Day events held this weekend

By Liz Fisher

MIT's Class Day 1979 will be held this Saturday, November 3. For those people who aren't quite ready for a race like the recent Head of the Charles, Class Day provides an opportunity to enjoy a shortened version of the race. Although Class Day races are a bit shorter (500 yards, instead of three miles), they are just as exciting and action-packed, if not more so. All MIT students, alumni, faculty, and staff, and Wellesley students are eligible to row in Class Day events.

Entry forms, copies of the rules, and sign-up sheets for practice boats are available at the Pierce Boathouse. Entry forms and fees should be delivered to the boathouse by 7:30pm Thursday, November 1 to allow time for scheduling of races and usage of the balls. There will be a meeting Friday, November 2 at 7:30pm in the Boathouse lounge to draw lanes and boats for the Saturday morning heats. A representative from each boat is required to attend. One individual may represent more than one boat. On Class Day, refreshments will be served to all participants. Winners in each event will receive prizes at the awards ceremony held after the races. Official Class Day shirts will be available in Lobby 10 on Thursday and Friday.

Hughes is news

We make engineering and scientific history year after year. Like 1976, when the Hughes-developed satellites went into orbit.

If you come to work with us, we'll both make news in your hometown paper.

Help Hughes Aircraft Company make news. And electronic miracles. And history. (And no airplanes.) Ask your placement office when Hughes recruiters will be on campus.
