To the Editor,

I would like to express my sentiments on the letter written in last Tuesday's Tech which referred to CARP's activity at MIT. CARP is a group of students and faculty who also share a genuine concern for the future of our planet and all academic communities.

The letter in question appears to focus on the fear and ignorance which surrounds our campus. Those who react like the authors of this letter have a different viewpoint. I believe these quotes which were extracted from long impromptu speeches can deceive the reader.

To take quotation out of context is in this way dangerous because it creates a distortion of Rev. Moon's philosophy and ideals.

The authors of the letter will continue to promulgate ignorance because of their fear. They actually seem to be afraid of Rev. Moon and CARP that they never bother to check first-hand what he is actually all about.

To spread misleading and destructive ideas like this is a disservice to everyone involved. It tends to instigate prejudice and racial hostility.

Actually, one of CARP's main purposes is to eradicate prejudice and bigotry and other forms of selfish and narrow-minded thought. We desire to get beyond the fear and ignorance which hinders mankind's progress throughout the course of history.

Furthermore, CARP will provide as much information as possible about Rev. Moon and his work. In an academic environment the truth should be sought without fear and for the sake of eliminating ignorance. It is time to eliminate ignorance and not just to dominate us. Let us always search with a sincere desire to find the truth that can elevate humanity.

Dennis A. Jarnson

Blooddrivechairman thanks volunteers

To the editor,

I would like to personally thank the MIT community for its outstanding contribution to the success of the Fall 1979 TCA - Red Cross Blood Drive. This was our largest drive in five years and the response was overwhelming.

In last Tuesday's Tech the authors of the letter will continue to promulgate ignorance because of their fear. They actually seem to be afraid of Rev. Moon and CARP that they never bother to check first-hand what he is actually all about.

To spread misleading and destructive ideas like this is a disservice to everyone involved. It tends to instigate prejudice and racial hostility.

Actually, one of CARP's main purposes is to eradicate prejudice and bigotry and other forms of selfish and narrow-minded thought. We desire to get beyond the fear and ignorance which hinders mankind's progress throughout the course of history.

Furthermore, CARP will provide as much information as possible about Rev. Moon and his work. In an academic environment the truth should be sought without fear and for the sake of eliminating ignorance. It is time to eliminate ignorance and not just to dominate us. Let us always search with a sincere desire to find the truth that can elevate humanity.

Eric A. Sohn '81

Software Consultants

- Confident in your technical abilities?
- Capable of developing software from design through implementation?
- Able to work independently?

Computer Interactive Services, Inc.
711 Boylston Street, Boston, MA 02116

ONE WAY FARE TO LOGAN AIRPORT SHUTTLE SERVICE

For Information and Reservations Please Call (617) 268-7400

An Evening at Smith College

All buses to Smith College depart Kresge Oval at 6:45pm Saturday, November 17.

Please be prompt.

BOSTON & MIDDLESEX

Computer Interactive Services, Inc.
711 Boylston Street, Boston, MA 02116