The winter season begins in earnest in the months of January, following a nearly month-long break due to finals and the holidays. Here is a capsule of some of the action to come this month.

Basketball - Coach Fran O'Brien's men hope to snap their five-game losing streak this week, as they open a quick three-game homestand tonight against Thomas College of Maine. Forward and captain Bob Clarke '83 is expected to be at full strength following an ankle injury in December.

On the women's side, MIT opens its season at Gordon tomorrow, then faces Bates at home on Saturday. Coach Jean Heiney suffered a major blow when junior forward Donna Wilson was hurt in a loss to Wesleyan in the final game of 1980. Wilson had played well in the club's first two contests.

Gymnastics - The men's squad opens its season under first-year coach Robert Horwitz Saturday at home against Harvard and Boston University in the Special Events and Athletic Center. All interested persons are invited to attend - no previous experience is required. Joe Quinn, MIT hockey coach, will supervise the competition.

For further information, call Elizabeth English at x-2270 or Sparty Bowden at x-2272. Here is the Engineer home schedule for the upcoming week:
- Men's Basketball vs. Bates, Thursday Jan. 8, 8pm, Rockwell Cage
- Indoor Track vs. Williams, Saturday Jan. 10, 1pm, Special Events Center
- Men's and Women's Basketball vs. Bates, Saturday Jan. 10, 6:30pm (Women) and 8:15pm (Men)
- Men's Gymnastics vs. Harvard and Bates University, Saturday Jan. 10, 10pm, duPont Gymnasium
- Men's Basketball vs. New England College, Monday Jan. 12, 7:30pm, Rockwell Cage

The newly-formed MIT women's club ice hockey team will hold a practice session Friday, January 9 from 1 to 3pm in the Special Events and Athletic Center. All interested persons are invited to attend - no previous experience is required. Joe Quinn, MIT hockey coach, will supervise the competition.

The winter season begins in earnest in the months of January, following a nearly month-long break due to finals and the holidays. Here is a capsule of some of the action to come this month.

Basketball - Coach Fran O'Brien's men hope to snap their five-game losing streak this week, as they open a quick three-game homestand tonight against Thomas College of Maine. Forward and captain Bob Clarke '83 is expected to be at full strength following an ankle injury in December.

On the women's side, MIT opens its season at Gordon tomorrow, then faces Bates at home on Saturday. Coach Jean Heiney suffered a major blow when junior forward Donna Wilson was hurt in a loss to Wesleyan in the final game of 1980. Wilson had played well in the club's first two contests.

Gymnastics - The men's squad opens its season under first-year coach Robert Horwitz Saturday at home against Harvard and Boston University in the Special Events and Athletic Center. All interested persons are invited to attend - no previous experience is required. Joe Quinn, MIT hockey coach, will supervise the competition.

For further information, call Elizabeth English at x-2270 or Sparty Bowden at x-2272. Here is the Engineer home schedule for the upcoming week:
- Men's Basketball vs. Bates, Thursday Jan. 8, 8pm, Rockwell Cage
- Indoor Track vs. Williams, Saturday Jan. 10, 1pm, Special Events Center
- Men's and Women's Basketball vs. Bates, Saturday Jan. 10, 6:30pm (Women) and 8:15pm (Men)
- Men's Gymnastics vs. Harvard and Bates University, Saturday Jan. 10, 10pm, duPont Gymnasium
- Men's Basketball vs. New England College, Monday Jan. 12, 7:30pm, Rockwell Cage

The newly-formed MIT women's club ice hockey team will hold a practice session Friday, January 9 from 1 to 3pm in the Special Events and Athletic Center. All interested persons are invited to attend - no previous experience is required. Joe Quinn, MIT hockey coach, will supervise the competition.

The winter season begins in earnest in the months of January, following a nearly month-long break due to finals and the holidays. Here is a capsule of some of the action to come this month.

Basketball - Coach Fran O'Brien's men hope to snap their five-game losing streak this week, as they open a quick three-game homestand tonight against Thomas College of Maine. Forward and captain Bob Clarke '83 is expected to be at full strength following an ankle injury in December.

On the women's side, MIT opens its season at Gordon tomorrow, then faces Bates at home on Saturday. Coach Jean Heiney suffered a major blow when junior forward Donna Wilson was hurt in a loss to Wesleyan in the final game of 1980. Wilson had played well in the club's first two contests.

Gymnastics - The men's squad opens its season under first-year coach Robert Horwitz Saturday at home against Harvard and Boston University in the Special Events and Athletic Center. All interested persons are invited to attend - no previous experience is required. Joe Quinn, MIT hockey coach, will supervise the competition.

For further information, call Elizabeth English at x-2270 or Sparty Bowden at x-2272. Here is the Engineer home schedule for the upcoming week:
- Men's Basketball vs. Bates, Thursday Jan. 8, 8pm, Rockwell Cage
- Indoor Track vs. Williams, Saturday Jan. 10, 1pm, Special Events Center
- Men's and Women's Basketball vs. Bates, Saturday Jan. 10, 6:30pm (Women) and 8:15pm (Men)
- Men's Gymnastics vs. Harvard and Bates University, Saturday Jan. 10, 10pm, duPont Gymnasium
- Men's Basketball vs. New England College, Monday Jan. 12, 7:30pm, Rockwell Cage

The newly-formed MIT women's club ice hockey team will hold a practice session Friday, January 9 from 1 to 3pm in the Special Events and Athletic Center. All interested persons are invited to attend - no previous experience is required. Joe Quinn, MIT hockey coach, will supervise the competition.

The winter season begins in earnest in the months of January, following a nearly month-long break due to finals and the holidays. Here is a capsule of some of the action to come this month.

Basketball - Coach Fran O'Brien's men hope to snap their five-game losing streak this week, as they open a quick three-game homestand tonight against Thomas College of Maine. Forward and captain Bob Clarke '83 is expected to be at full strength following an ankle injury in December.

On the women's side, MIT opens its season at Gordon tomorrow, then faces Bates at home on Saturday. Coach Jean Heiney suffered a major blow when junior forward Donna Wilson was hurt in a loss to Wesleyan in the final game of 1980. Wilson had played well in the club's first two contests.

Gymnastics - The men's squad opens its season under first-year coach Robert Horwitz Saturday at home against Harvard and Boston University in the Special Events and Athletic Center. All interested persons are invited to attend - no previous experience is required. Joe Quinn, MIT hockey coach, will supervise the competition.

For further information, call Elizabeth English at x-2270 or Sparty Bowden at x-2272. Here is the Engineer home schedule for the upcoming week:
- Men's Basketball vs. Bates, Thursday Jan. 8, 8pm, Rockwell Cage
- Indoor Track vs. Williams, Saturday Jan. 10, 1pm, Special Events Center
- Men's and Women's Basketball vs. Bates, Saturday Jan. 10, 6:30pm (Women) and 8:15pm (Men)
- Men's Gymnastics vs. Harvard and Bates University, Saturday Jan. 10, 10pm, duPont Gymnasium
- Men's Basketball vs. New England College, Monday Jan. 12, 7:30pm, Rockwell Cage

The newly-formed MIT women's club ice hockey team will hold a practice session Friday, January 9 from 1 to 3pm in the Special Events and Athletic Center. All interested persons are invited to attend - no previous experience is required. Joe Quinn, MIT hockey coach, will supervise the competition.

The winter season begins in earnest in the months of January, following a nearly month-long break due to finals and the holidays. Here is a capsule of some of the action to come this month.

Basketball - Coach Fran O'Brien's men hope to snap their five-game losing streak this week, as they open a quick three-game homestand tonight against Thomas College of Maine. Forward and captain Bob Clarke '83 is expected to be at full strength following an ankle injury in December.

On the women's side, MIT opens its season at Gordon tomorrow, then faces Bates at home on Saturday. Coach Jean Heiney suffered a major blow when junior forward Donna Wilson was hurt in a loss to Wesleyan in the final game of 1980. Wilson had played well in the club's first two contests.

Gymnastics - The men's squad opens its season under first-year coach Robert Horwitz Saturday at home against Harvard and Boston University in the Special Events and Athletic Center. All interested persons are invited to attend - no previous experience is required. Joe Quinn, MIT hockey coach, will supervise the competition.

For further information, call Elizabeth English at x-2270 or Sparty Bowden at x-2272. Here is the Engineer home schedule for the upcoming week:
- Men's Basketball vs. Bates, Thursday Jan. 8, 8pm, Rockwell Cage
- Indoor Track vs. Williams, Saturday Jan. 10, 1pm, Special Events Center
- Men's and Women's Basketball vs. Bates, Saturday Jan. 10, 6:30pm (Women) and 8:15pm (Men)
- Men's Gymnastics vs. Harvard and Bates University, Saturday Jan. 10, 10pm, duPont Gymnasium
- Men's Basketball vs. New England College, Monday Jan. 12, 7:30pm, Rockwell Cage

The newly-formed MIT women's club ice hockey team will hold a practice session Friday, January 9 from 1 to 3pm in the Special Events and Athletic Center. All interested persons are invited to attend - no previous experience is required. Joe Quinn, MIT hockey coach, will supervise the competition.

The winter season begins in earnest in the months of January, following a nearly month-long break due to finals and the holidays. Here is a capsule of some of the action to come this month.

Basketball - Coach Fran O'Brien's men hope to snap their five-game losing streak this week, as they open a quick three-game homestand tonight against Thomas College of Maine. Forward and captain Bob Clarke '83 is expected to be at full strength following an ankle injury in December.

On the women's side, MIT opens its season at Gordon tomorrow, then faces Bates at home on Saturday. Coach Jean Heiney suffered a major blow when junior forward Donna Wilson was hurt in a loss to Wesleyan in the final game of 1980. Wilson had played well in the club's first two contests.

Gymnastics - The men's squad opens its season under first-year coach Robert Horwitz Saturday at home against Harvard and Boston University in the Special Events and Athletic Center. All interested persons are invited to attend - no previous experience is required. Joe Quinn, MIT hockey coach, will supervise the competition.

For further information, call Elizabeth English at x-2270 or Sparty Bowden at x-2272. Here is the Engineer home schedule for the upcoming week:
- Men's Basketball vs. Bates, Thursday Jan. 8, 8pm, Rockwell Cage
- Indoor Track vs. Williams, Saturday Jan. 10, 1pm, Special Events Center
- Men's and Women's Basketball vs. Bates, Saturday Jan. 10, 6:30pm (Women) and 8:15pm (Men)
- Men's Gymnastics vs. Harvard and Bates University, Saturday Jan. 10, 10pm, duPont Gymnasium
- Men's Basketball vs. New England College, Monday Jan. 12, 7:30pm, Rockwell Cage