Infirmary to house grad

By Kenneth Snow

Plans are being made to convert the present Infirmary into graduate housing by the fall of 1982. The Infirmary will be moving to the new Health Services Building on Carleton Street.

The new dormitory is designed to house between 50 and 64 students; the final number will be decided upon later, according to Peter Brown, Assistant Dean for Residence Programs. The actual number will depend upon the final design plans.

Brown noted that the dormitory may be used as an all-women house. The building may become co-ed, however, if the number of graduate women requesting housing is not sufficient to fill the number of open spaces.

Registration for the fall term will be held Wednesday, September 9, in duPont Gymnasium from 9:00 am until 5:00 pm. Freshmen should register before 11:00 am so as to allow time for adequate resolution of potential conflicts.

(continued from page 1)

Infirmary on Memorial Drive may soon house graduate students (The Tech file photo)

MIT housing available for readmitted, transfer students

It is estimated that the current housing situation is the lower number of readmitted students who had accepted offers to live in the dormitory system. The Dean’s Office had estimated this figure to be 80; it is thought that the number is closer to 100.

Sherwood also indicated that, for the first time in his memory, the Dean’s Office is looking for undergraduates to fill housing spaces, and will consider requests from all current undergraduates for spots in the dormitory system. Sherwood said he wished to “encourage anyone who wishes to come in and request housing.”

Refering to the Dean’s Office policy of only allowing transfer and readmitted students into the housing system on an annual basis, Sherwood commented, “If you are allowed in, you will be allowed to stay until 5:00 pm. Freshmen; the final number will be decided upon later, according to Peter Brown, Assistant Dean for Residence Programs. The actual number will depend upon the final design plans.

Brown noted that the dormitory may be used as an all-women house. The building may become co-ed, however, if the number of graduate women requesting housing is not sufficient to fill the number of open spaces.

Registration for the fall term will be held Wednesday, September 9, in duPont Gymnasium from 9:00 am until 5:00 pm. Freshmen should register before 11:00 am so as to allow time for adequate resolution of potential conflicts.

(continued from page 1)

The current housing situation is the lower number of readmitted students who had accepted offers to live in the dormitory system. The Dean’s Office had estimated this figure to be 80; it is thought that the number is closer to 100.

Sherwood also indicated that, for the first time in his memory, the Dean’s Office is looking for undergraduates to fill housing spaces, and will consider requests from all current undergraduates for spots in the dormitory system. Sherwood said he wished to “encourage anyone who wishes to come in and request housing.”

Refering to the Dean’s Office policy of only allowing transfer and readmitted students into the housing system on an annual basis, Sherwood commented, “If you are allowed in, you will be allowed to stay until 5:00 pm. Freshmen; the final number will be decided upon later, according to Peter Brown, Assistant Dean for Residence Programs. The actual number will depend upon the final design plans.

Brown noted that the dormitory may be used as an all-women house. The building may become co-ed, however, if the number of graduate women requesting housing is not sufficient to fill the number of open spaces.

Registration for the fall term will be held Wednesday, September 9, in duPont Gymnasium from 9:00 am until 5:00 pm. Freshmen should register before 11:00 am so as to allow time for adequate resolution of potential conflicts.

(continued from page 1)

MIT housing available for readmitted, transfer students

It is estimated that the current housing situation is the lower number of readmitted students who had accepted offers to live in the dormitory system. The Dean’s Office had estimated this figure to be 80; it is thought that the number is closer to 100.

Sherwood also indicated that, for the first time in his memory, the Dean’s Office is looking for undergraduates to fill housing spaces, and will consider requests from all current undergraduates for spots in the dormitory system. Sherwood said he wished to “encourage anyone who wishes to come in and request housing.”

Refering to the Dean’s Office policy of only allowing transfer and readmitted students into the housing system on an annual basis, Sherwood commented, “If you are allowed in, you will be allowed to stay until 5:00 pm. Freshmen; the final number will be decided upon later, according to Peter Brown, Assistant Dean for Residence Programs. The actual number will depend upon the final design plans.

Brown noted that the dormitory may be used as an all-women house. The building may become co-ed, however, if the number of graduate women requesting housing is not sufficient to fill the number of open spaces.

Registration for the fall term will be held Wednesday, September 9, in duPont Gymnasium from 9:00 am until 5:00 pm. Freshmen should register before 11:00 am so as to allow time for adequate resolution of potential conflicts.