Volleyball, now at 27-6, is headed for states

By Alan Warren and Mary Petrofsky

(Volleyball experienced a rare loss against Springfield. (Photo by Ray Harnish)

The 1981 Class Day regatta was held last Saturday. Below, in order, are the final results:

- Pi Lambda Phi
- Zeta Beta Tau
- Burton 1
- The French Sangria
- Alpha Tau Omega
- NRORTC
- PIKA
- French-Spanish House

Class Day

Senior Eights
- Sigma Phi Epsilon
- Zeta Psi
- Mixed Fours
- Fan Club
- Theta Chi
- Elite Fours
- Kappa Sigma
- AFROTC

The MIT Musical Theatre Guild presents

Fiddler on the Roof

November 6,7,12,13 & 14 at 8pm
November 8 at 3:30pm
Tickets: $5 $3 MIT students
62-12 children 12 & under (Nov. 8 only)

Kresge Auditorium
95 Massachusetts Avenue, Cambridge
Information & Reservations: 253-5306

Tickets Available in Lobby 10

Volleyball, now at 27-6, is headed for states

By Alan Warren and Mary Petrofsky

(Volleyball experienced a rare loss against Springfield. (Photo by Ray Harnish)

Continuing its impressive run of victories, the MIT women's volleyball team entered its last week of regular season play with a clinched spot in the Division I State Championships and an excellent chance of a berth in the Eastern Championships at West Point. Despite a disappointing loss to Springfield College on Tuesday, the Engineers spent a current match record of 27-6 and will host the Massachusetts State Championships on Saturday.

Last Saturday, MIT averaged two of its previous three losses while playing in the Boston College Invitational Tournament. Opening against Eastern Nazarene College, the Engineers warmed up quickly and won easily, 15-5, 15-7. The University of Vermont offered tougher competition, but behind the serving and defensive play by Mary Petrofsky '85 and great shot placement by Amie Munro '85, the MIT women won 15-11, 15-13.

In its final preliminary round match, MIT faced New York Tech, a strong Division IV team. Although playing with NY throughout, MIT lacked the spark needed to take either game and lost 15-13, 15-12. Coming out of its pool in second place, MIT then went to the semi-finals against C.W. Post, another tough New York team. This match saw MIT's best to date as everything played very well and led by powerful cross-court spikes by Peggie Konoff '85, won decisively at 15-3, 15-13. Since New York Tech beat Colgate in the other semi-final match, the Engineers found themselves in a rematch; please turn page 11.

Cafe Vienna and a letter from home...

General Foods International Coffees Make Good Company.

MAKE YOURSELF A CINNAMONY CUP OF CAFE VIENNA.

Available at: COOP M.I.T. STUDENT CENTER