Q: Where do you find one of the world’s largest energy, research and development centers with career opportunities allowing you to get involved?

A: In IDAHO, at EG&G... where your career will have enormous room to grow.

EG&G is the operating contractor for the Department of Energy’s vast Idaho National Engineering Laboratory (INEL). The INEL covers about 800 square miles and employs some 7,000 people of whom roughly 4,000 hold degrees.

If your career plans include contributing to the development of alternative energy, EG&G Idaho, Inc. offers you a unique opportunity.
