Patel — MIT won the Collegiate Sectional Feb. 27 capturing eighth of nine medals in the process. Joseph Mayo '83 took top honors in pistol (59 out of 600) with scannates Jon Williams '83 and Larry Depischene '84 second and third, respectively. In standard pool, Spencer Webb '83 was second with Mayo third. In air pistol, Depischene was first (172 out of 200) followed by Mayo and Brian Hughes '83. After a match at Army Mar. 13, coach Francis Malagari's team will compete in the nationals at Navy Apr. 20-21.

Fencing — The Engineers finished third in the Collegiate Sectionals held in Dartmouth and Maine-Orono held at Norwich Feb. 21, and placed fourth among seven teams in the New England College League this season. Cliff Speck '83 had the lunge's top range (159.0 out of 600) while Bill Bahavas '83 was fifth (137.3). At the sectionals, Speck set a new record in lunge (129 out of 120) and air fence (377 out of 400) while Bahavas was second and third, respectively, in both events. MIT won 14-19 overall 11-10 in the seniors.

Swimming — John Schmitz '83 will go to the University of Rhode Island this weekend to defend his title in the 400-yard individual medley in the New England Championships. Schmitz, a native of San Rafael, California, has won the title the past two years.

Correction — Paul Ness' winning time in the 100-yard medley was incorrectly stated in Pavilion 3:33. It should have read 2:06.3. Also, MIT finished 11th in the meet, not 12th.

-EL-AZAR
1755 Mass. Ave.
Cambridge, MA

Please mention Harvard Sq. & Porter Sq.

Lettuce Home-Style Cooking

Daily Specials $3.99
Fine Food — Moderate Prices
492-7448

Video Game Training Tape

MIT film/video section is seeking master video game players. If you are an expert at a video game, and would like to be involved in a documentary, please contact Ruth Ballinger at 825-5086.

If you want to work for a computer company that expects more of you than more of the same, talk to CSC. Our recruiter will be on campus to answer your questions March 12.

The only limitations are the ones you bring with you.