Freshmen advised at picnic

Dormitory Council chairman John Smith '83 delivered the shortest speech of the afternoon, telling freshmen to "drink to excess, fall down, throw up a few times, and then get up and do it all again."

The highlight of the day was the kidnapping of Undergraduate Association President (UAP) Kenneth Segel '83 by a group of guerrillas armed with toy machine guns, claiming to be freedom fighters from Segel's Harvard colony.

Segel claimed the red brick school as a colony while the student government there dissolved into a maze of confused proposals and compromises.

The commandoes left a ransom note with R/O coordinator Kenneth Dumas '83 demanding the colony be freed from the "tyrannical" rule of the engineers.

Segel was released unharmed, with no explanation.
