Socialists win local Greek elections — The ruling Greek Socialist Party won a major victory in Sunday's local elections, capturing 180 of the 190 mayoral posts up for election. Socialists candidates defeated conservative opponents in the cities of Athens, Salonica, and Pireaus. "This vote comes to stress the faith of the people to the task we have undertaken, to form a government that can meet the expectations of the nation," said Premier Andreas Papandreou.

Israel may shut down El Al — The Israeli government announced Sunday it may disbanded or reorganize the deficit-ridden national airline, El Al. The Israeli cabinet offered El Al employees a new job plan which would cut their salaries about 20 percent and restrict their right to strike. Seven of the airline's eight work- er's groups have accepted the new plan, but the airline's pilots refuse to do so. Although the government said Sunday it would continue to own and operate the airline, Transportation Minister Chaim Coefu said the Israeli government may no longer be able to afford an airline, and suggested it be sold to private internationals," said Premier Andreas Papandreou.
