Hart Lacks
Sense of Humor

Well, the Tuition Riot is still March 4th, but Gary Hart, Senator from Colorado and Democratic candidate for president wimped out. Our March 4th Education Rally was popular with the Hart Campaign; Hart even wanted to rent a helicopter just to make it to MIT on time. That is, until an article about the riot appeared on page A16 of Wednesday’s New York Times. “President Reagan has been asked to attend a riot.” “It is being organized by a committee, as boils any activity at the cerebral Massachusetts Institute of Technology.” Gary was not amused. Campaign aides, shocked by the word “riot,” scurried to their phones to call Hart’s appearance off. It looks like we’ll actually have to riot. After all, if the Times said there’s going to be a riot it must be so.

G.A.
(Grease Anonymous)

At the G.A. meeting next week, Thursday, March 3 at 7:30pm in 1-190 there will be all sorts of fun. First we will hear brief reports from several of the general committees (how up to find out which ones), but it’s at 8:00pm that the real fun starts. That’s when the GA forum for UAP/UAVP candidates begins. The forum will last an hour and a half and you’ll get an opportunity to hear from all the candidates. You’ll even have a chance to ask them questions. All MIT Undergraduates are invited.

No Vampires Please

The MIT-TCA Spring Blood Drive starts Wednesday, March 2 in the Sala de Puerto Rico of the Student Center. If you can help, please contact Donna Gresman or Karen Ball at W20-450 or call x3-7911.

UA News

DormCon

The Dormitory Council will be electing a Chairman, Vice-chairman, Parking chairman, secretary-treasurer, Social, and Judcom chairman at 7:30pm, March 3 in the dormcon office (W20-401). This election is open to anyone in the dormitory system. For questions call John Smith (772-224).

HoToGAMIT

The most useful and widely read guide to life at MIT published in the world needs your help. If you are interested in working on HoToGAMIT, perhaps as a section editor or sub-section editor give your name to the folks at the TCA Office. W20-450, x3-4885.

Be a Star!

The Musical Theatre Guild is looking for people for the Tech Show ’83 orchestra. We need musicians who can improvise, write, arrange, and/or play: guitar, bass, percussion, violin, viola, clarinet, flute, sax, trumpet, trombone, tuba, baritone, or any other instrument that might be useful. Call Ira Berk at 253-6294.