weekend preview

At home:
Fencing — The women's team will be at home tomorrow for a 7pm match against Maine. Wellesley is also slated to be present. The time is subject to change without notice. Contact fencing coach Eric Sellie (x-4911) for an up-to-the-minute schedule.

Rifle — The marksmen will put their unspoken record to the test tomorrow in the league finals and intercollegiate sectionals. The match, rescheduled from last weekend, will be held in the duPont rifle range.

sports update

Gymnastics — Four new MIT records were not enough, as the men's gymnastics team finished third of four at Lowell Saturday, defeating Vermont for the third time this season, but losing to Lowell and winnner UMass. Dave Roberts '81 set a new mark in the vaulting with a score of 9.6. Mike Ehrlich '84 set a record with a 9.25 in the floor exercise. A new team record was also set in each of those events.

Pistol — The other marksmen will be out at 9am tomorrow for the intercollegiate sectionals at the duPont pistol range. The competition will last the better part of the day.

Hockey — Snow cancelled the men's only away game this year, and, as fate would have it, that game against Quinipiac will be made up tomorrow at 2pm in the Athletic Center.

Swimming — The women's team will be at Lowell both tomorrow and Sunday for the New England championships. The men's team, meanwhile, will pay a visit to Bridgewater State for a 2pm meet.

Swimming — The women swimmers will also be participating in New England's, theirs at Southern Massachusetts University today through Sunday.

Track — Last you think it is done for the season after the New England Division III championships last weekend, the track team will be at Bates tomorrow and Sunday for its New Englands.
