Inexperience hurts lacrosse

tle, but it is young, and, as is the case with many inexperienced teams, inconsistency was its constant nemesis. Countless times an MIT defender would strip the ball from an Ambrose player only to throw it away moments later. As a result, the Engineers were unable to sustain a serious offensive threat. The one exception to this inconsistency resulted in the Engineers' lone score. Midfielder Mike Ambrogi '85, who spent most of the day giving new meaning to the word hustle, drew an Ambrose penalty as he was scrambling for a loose ball. Thirteen seconds later, following a second penalty which gave MIT a two-man advantage, Ambrogi took a pass from attackman Harry Lipschitz G and rifled it past the goalie for a well-deserved score. The goal came at the midpoint of the third quarter and made the score 6-1, but that was the extent of MIT's offense, as it managed only one more shot on goal the rest of the way.

The Engineers go after their first win today (they are now 0-2 after a season-opening defeat against Tufts) at Westfield State and play at home Thursday at 7pm against Holy Cross. These games will give the squad large doses of experience, which is an ingredient that has been sorely lacking.

Baseball — Three hits by shortstop Dale Rothman '84, including a home run and a triple, were not enough, as the baseball team dropped its home opener 6-4 to Bowdoin Saturday afternoon. The squad will be looking for its first victory when it hosts the Harvard Crimson at 3pm on Briggs Field.

Note — Cliff Eskey '83 placed 11th in the small bore competition at last weekend's national collegiate rifle championships.

Tennis — The men's tennis team upped its record to 5-1 with a 5-4 win at Wesleyan Saturday. Ramy Ruk '86, captain George Heplin '81, and Chisoo Hahn '81 all took their singles matches, while Chen and Rob Craig '86 followed Heplin and Will Sauer '85 in chalking up doubles victories. The team will have plenty of opportunities to raise its record, with afternoon home meets Wednesday (vs. Bowdoin), Thursday (vs. Amherst), Friday (vs. Colby), and Saturday (vs. Williams).

Track — The outdoor track team opened its season with a 57-67 loss at Division I University of New Hampshire on Saturday. Pat Paris '85 (hammer), John Taylor '84 (440-yard dash and intermedi-tary), Ed Areneberg '84 (220-yard dash), captain Martin Taylor '83 (triple jump), and Bob Walsby '84 (three mile) all posted victories in the losing effort, and the team captured the one-mile relay. The Engineers will open at home Saturday against Bowdoin. The meet is scheduled to begin at 12:30pm.

Volleyball — The men's volleyball club experienced the thrill of victory Saturday, defeating Boston University 3-1.
