MIT No. 1 in Div. III poll in East

The Eagles came out of the time-out to increase their lead to 9-2, but then the Engineers took control. Munro and Michelle Henge '84 each served four points, and Kodaka got an ace, giving MIT an 11-9 edge. Wesslund served the final four points, and Kauth provided the finishing spike to put the game and match away.

Altman praised the Eagles, commenting that they "hustle more, set better, and are larger than last year." Their size makes them "very hard to hit around," she noted. The first-year coach also praised the serving of Kauth, who had six aces, Wesslund, and Munro.

The Engineers are the top team in the East, currently ranked sixth in the NCAA Division III poll. Eastern Connecticut State University is second in the East, ranked 12th in the poll. MIT has defeated Eastern Connecticut this year.

Tomorrow the team will head south for the Rhode Island College Tournament. The squad returns home Thursday, when it hosts Eastern Nazarene and Mount Holyoke beginning at 6pm.
