Visit contrasts life in El Salvador, Nicaragua

(Continued from page 4)

the Mass there. During the bus ride in from the airport, most people were seated with their AK-47 rifles leveled. The streets were guarded, with soldiers supervising the people, they said. The slogans shouted down several times during the Mass were in unison. The slogans were, again, unusual reactions to the papal visit. Children seemed to be an exception, however. The people in the car that I was traveling in kept talking excitedly around the pope. Children seemed to be clapping along with the masses.

Many people had been waiting to hear the pope and the Mass in Managua, the pope was shouted down several times during the Mass. The presence of "death squads" in Nicaragua, the pope was shouted down, several times, during the Mass. These were, again, unusual reactions to the Mass in Managua. The slogans shouted down several times during the Mass were in unison. The slogans were, again, unusual reactions to the papal visit. Children seemed to be an exception, however. The people in the car that I was traveling in kept talking excitedly around the pope. Children seemed to be clapping along with the masses.

Many people had been waiting to hear the pope and the Mass in Managua, the pope was shouted down several times during the Mass. The presence of "death squads" in Nicaragua, the pope was shouted down, several times, during the Mass. These were, again, unusual reactions to the papal visit. Children seemed to be an exception, however. The people in the car that I was traveling in kept talking excitedly around the pope. Children seemed to be clapping along with the masses.

Many people had been waiting to hear the pope and the Mass in Managua, the pope was shouted down several times during the Mass. The presence of "death squads" in Nicaragua, the pope was shouted down, several times, during the Mass. These were, again, unusual reactions to the papal visit. Children seemed to be an exception, however. The people in the car that I was traveling in kept talking excitedly around the pope. Children seemed to be clapping along with the masses.

Many people had been waiting to hear the pope and the Mass in Managua, the pope was shouted down several times during the Mass. The presence of "death squads" in Nicaragua, the pope was shouted down, several times, during the Mass. These were, again, unusual reactions to the papal visit. Children seemed to be an exception, however. The people in the car that I was traveling in kept talking excitedly around the pope. Children seemed to be clapping along with the masses.

Many people had been waiting to hear the pope and the Mass in Managua, the pope was shouted down several times during the Mass. The presence of "death squads" in Nicaragua, the pope was shouted down, several times, during the Mass. These were, again, unusual reactions to the papal visit. Children seemed to be an exception, however. The people in the car that I was traveling in kept talking excitedly around the pope. Children seemed to be clapping along with the masses.

Many people had been waiting to hear the pope and the Mass in Managua, the pope was shouted down several times during the Mass. The presence of "death squads" in Nicaragua, the pope was shouted down, several times, during the Mass. These were, again, unusual reactions to the papal visit. Children seemed to be an exception, however. The people in the car that I was traveling in kept talking excitedly around the pope. Children seemed to be clapping along with the masses.

Many people had been waiting to hear the pope and the Mass in Managua, the pope was shouted down several times during the Mass. The presence of "death squads" in Nicaragua, the pope was shouted down, several times, during the Mass. These were, again, unusual reactions to the papal visit. Children seemed to be an exception, however. The people in the car that I was traveling in kept talking excitedly around the pope. Children seemed to be clapping along with the masses.

Many people had been waiting to hear the pope and the Mass in Managua, the pope was shouted down several times during the Mass. The presence of "death squads" in Nicaragua, the pope was shouted down, several times, during the Mass. These were, again, unusual reactions to the papal visit. Children seemed to be an exception, however. The people in the car that I was traveling in kept talking excitedly around the pope. Children seemed to be clapping along with the masses.

Many people had been waiting to hear the pope and the Mass in Managua, the pope was shouted down several times during the Mass. The presence of "death squads" in Nicaragua, the pope was shouted down, several times, during the Mass. These were, again, unusual reactions to the papal visit. Children seemed to be an exception, however. The people in the car that I was traveling in kept talking excitedly around the pope. Children seemed to be clapping along with the masses.

Many people had been waiting to hear the pope and the Mass in Managua, the pope was shouted down several times during the Mass. The presence of "death squads" in Nicaragua, the pope was shouted down, several times, during the Mass. These were, again, unusual reactions to the papal visit. Children seemed to be an exception, however. The people in the car that I was traveling in kept talking excitedly around the pope. Children seemed to be clapping along with the masses.

Many people had been waiting to hear the pope and the Mass in Managua, the pope was shouted down several times during the Mass. The presence of "death squads" in Nicaragua, the pope was shouted down, several times, during the Mass. These were, again, unusual reactions to the papal visit. Children seemed to be an exception, however. The people in the car that I was traveling in kept talking excitedly around the pope. Children seemed to be clapping along with the masses.